SHEELY TAKES OATH FOR THIRD TERM AS JUDGE; OTHERS SWORN IN

A dozen county officials Monday took an oath to "support, obey and defend the constitutions of the United States and Pennsylvania" and to "discharge my duties with fidelity" at a session of the Adams County court.

First to assume his office by taking the oath was Judge W. C. Sheely, starting an unprecedented third term as president judge of the Adams and Fulton County courts.

Following him came Associate Judge Earl W. Guise, District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, Register and Recorder Carl S. Menchey, Commissioners J. Blaine Bushey, E. Donald Scott and George E. Kane; Auditors Arthur M. Weikert, George M. Conover and Mrs. Laura M. Cratin; Surveyor LeRoy H. Winebrenner and Prothonotary Herbert W. Miller.

Families Were There
Judge Harvey A. Gross, York, presided at the opening of the special court session. Judge Sheely took over immediately after being sworn in. Thus for most of the court there were four judges on the bench. Judges Gross and Sheely and Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and Guise.

About 60 spectators, mostly relatives of the officials, were present for the session. Court Crier George P. Black opened the session with the traditional notice that the "court of quarter sessions, general jail delivery," etc., "is this day in session" and concluding with the traditional "God save the Commonwealth and this honorable court."

Mrs. Patrick M. McGee, pastor of Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church, McSherrystown, gave the opening prayer based on Solomon's prayer when he became king, "Give to thy servant Lord an understanding heart."

Attorney Richard A. Brown presented Judge Sheely's commission to the court, terming him a "man in whom are combined great scholarship and religious faith, who has brought dignity and honor to his county and the law."

New Prothonotary Takes Oath

WILL CONFER ON TRAIN TROUBLES

Borough and Western Maryland Railway officials will meet in the near future to discuss the problem of trains holding up traffic at street crossings in the community.

Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell Monday evening told council at its session in the engine house: "The Western Maryland held up three street crossings too long last week. I am going to find out why and the trainmaster has promised to come to see me. I am going to have the safety committee and the chief of police with when we have that meeting."

Council President Oyer broke in to declare: "The railroad had has this town tied up time and time again. Carlisle St. blocks back into the square and then nothing can move. There is no reason for the long halts made across the crossings. The police should arrest the engineers who they did once before when we had to break up that habit of stopping across crossings."

County Auditors Begin Annual Audit

The Adams County auditors reorganized Monday after a court session at which the new officials took their oath of office. This morning they began the annual audit of the various funds of the county.

George M. Conover was named president; Mrs. Laura M. Cratin, vice president, and Arthur M. Weikert, secretary. Attorney Eugene R. Hartman was named as solicitor. The auditors had a large basket of flowers for their office Monday, a gift of J. T. Kernan of McSherrystown.

Two Are Held For Slaying Western Maryland Student

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two youths faced murder charges today in the knife slaying of a 19-year-old Western Maryland College honor student who planned to become a Methodist minister.

The two, Richard P. Westcott, 16, and Charles Orem, 17, a store clerk, were scheduled to be arraigned today.

Both affect the extreme style of dress and long hair worn by youths who call themselves "drapes."

The victim was Gaither Lee Fischbach Jr., a college freshman home for the holidays. He was attending Western Maryland on a scholarship.

The youth was stabbed to death early Sunday near his home. He had been attending a family New Year's Eve party at the home of Emanuel S. Eichner.

Eichner, who drove Fischbach home and let him off about 200 feet from his house, told police he saw three boys on the corner who appeared to go in different directions as the youth got out of the car.

The boy's mother Mrs. Rhea Fischbach heard her son, calling after he stumbled inside the house. She found him bleeding from a deep chest wound. He died shortly afterward.

"A boy stabbed me," he told his mother before he lost consciousness. "Why did they do it?" asked his father, who said he did not want his son's killer to hang.

"I don't believe in capital punishment," he said.

Orem was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home, and Westcott was arrested at Southwestern Police Station, where he went to inquire about Orem.

THREE EMPLOYEES TO BE PARTNERS

In an announcement Monday, Radford H. Lippy, proprietor of Lippy's Men's Wear, 49 Chambersburg St., revealed the formation of a partnership with three veteran store employees.

The men being taken into the partnership include Paul L. Cornell, who has been with Mr. Lippy for 27 years; Paul F. Sterner, for the last 15 years; and Donald C. Fazenbaker, who has been there for the last 10 years. They will have full charge of the ready-to-wear clothing and haberdashery departments of the store while Mr. Lippy will continue in charge of the custom tailoring department. There will not be any change in the store's name.

TWO SEEK DIVORCES

The following divorce actions were started in Adams County today: Louise Jane (Reese) Currens, 46, Crouse Park, Littlestown, versus Wilbur James Currens, Taneytown, R. 1, on grounds of desertion; Virginia Ollie (Muselman) Cline, Iron Springs, versus Oliver Lawrence Cline, Waynesboro R. 4, on grounds of indignities.

At Least 345 Are Killed In Weekend Traffic Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's traffic deaths mounted to a record high for a three-day New Year's holiday over the long weekend.

It was the second consecutive holiday weekend the traffic toll hit a new record. The toll over the New Year weekend, however, was far below the record-breaking 609 for the Christmas holiday a week ago. It also was under the predicted 420.

An Associated Press survey showed that in the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday, 345 persons were killed in traffic accidents. The 69 killed in fires and 71 in miscellaneous accidents brought the over-all total to 485.

The previous high for traffic deaths in a three-day New Year period was 317 in 1953-54. The highest previous over-all mark was 433 in the same year.

The National Safety Council had estimated last week that 420 persons would be killed in motor mishaps during the New Year week-end. But with the death rate running below the estimate yesterday the council said a projection indicated the toll would be around 360.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said that although the traffic toll was below the council's pre-holiday estimate, "it was far from low enough."

"It certainly is discouraging that here is another record broken in the wrong direction," he said.

The traffic toll of 609 during the Christmas holiday, a record for any holiday period, prompted law enforcement officials to take steps to curb the highway toll during the New Year weekend.

"It seems that all this effort by news media and law enforcement people has at least saved a sizable number of lives," Dearborn said.

The traffic toll since the end of World War II has been smaller during the New Year's period than at Christmas.

In a survey over a nonholiday period of 78 hours, The Associated Press counted 364 traffic deaths. The survey was made for comparative purposes and covered a 78-hour period the weekend of Dec. 9-12.

The Christmas traffic deaths averaged nearly 8 per hour. In the New Year period the average was around 4 1/2 per hour.

Mrs. M. Basehoar Dies This Morning

Mrs. Ella Miller Basehoar, 71, of Littlestown R. 2, died this morning in the Hanover Hospital following an illness of several years. She was the daughter of the late Benjamin and Mary Brough Miller.

Surviving are her husband, Millard Basehoar; two children, Mrs. Leroy Palmer, 414 McCosh St., Hanover, and Millard Basehoar Jr., Princeville, Ill.; eight grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Emma Chronister, Hanover R. D.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Frederick Bucher Funeral Home, Hanover, the Rev. William E. Banks officiating. Interment will be in the Rest Haven Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Frederick Bucher Funeral Home Thursday evening.

TOWN CLOSES YEAR IN BLACK; HAS $48,578

Although the borough showed a cash balance of $48,578.06 as of December 31, borough expenses exceeded income in 1955 by several thousand dollars, according to the report of John H. Basehoar, borough treasurer, submitted to council at its meeting Monday evening.

Total income for 1955, according to Basehoar's report, was $115,763.78 but this included $10,000 in funds derived from the sale of bonds previously purchased by council. Total expenditures ran to $165,229.73, but it was anticipated that some December bills are outstanding and these would hike expenditures.

Income for 1955 was $1,837.33 above the $113,926.45 collected in 1954. Expenditures were $105,229.73 in 1955 as compared with $115,383.02 in 1954. But $10,000 of the 1955 income was mainly a bookkeeping figure since the bonds had been purchased earlier.

Met Income Up
Income during December amounted to $11,039.36 with the funds derived as follows: meter fund, $1,988.02; William G. Weaver, burgess, $8,751.96; R. P. Snyder, justice of the peace, $20; J. H. Weikert, tax collector, $270.02; J. H. Weikert, tax collector, $9.36. The balance in the general fund in December was $48,578.06 making a total of $57,622.13.

Expenditures for December were $9,044.07 including $694.25 for general government and tax; $2,728.58 for protection to person and property; $50 for health and sanitation; $4,725.17 for highway; $78, miscellaneous; $868.07 for light.

Annual expenditures were $11,058.02 for general government and tax; $36,758.63 for protection to person and property; $754.49 for health and sanitation; $41,006.51 for highway; $5,865.24, miscellaneous; $9,788.82 for light. The annual total was $105,229.73.

The balance in the general fund as of December 31, 1955, was $48,578.06, as compared with $38,044.01 on December 31, 1954.

Met income for 1955 was $26,037.67 as compared with $25,947.09 in 1954.

Mrs. Alveta Weaver Is Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Alveta A. Weaver of 12 N. Peters St., New Oxford, who died Thursday evening at the Warner Hospital, were held Monday morning, meeting at the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, at 8:30 o'clock. A requiem Mass followed at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church with the Rev. Fr. Philip J. Gergen as celebrant. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were three grandsons, John E. Nelson and Roger Weaver; and Eugene, Charles and Paul Kuhn.

Rice Sworn In As Cabinet Officer

HARRISBURG (AP) — Henry E. Harper, Harrisburg attorney, today was sworn in to the $15,000-a-year post of secretary of the commonwealth succeeding James A. Finnegan.

Harper, who was installed in the post by Superior Court Judge P. Clair Ross, in turn swore in John S. Rice, Gettysburg, as secretary of property and supplies.

Rice succeeds William D. Thomas who resigned to run for Congress.

On hand to welcome the two men to their new positions was Gov. Leader.

"It is a pleasure to have two such capable men in the administration," Leader said.

MRS. H. HANSON DIES TODAY IN D. C. HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, 73, wife of Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president emeritus of Gettysburg College, died this morning at 6:25 o'clock of a cerebral hemorrhage in Casualty Hospital, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Hanson became ill enroute from Delray, Florida, where she and her husband had been vacationing. She had been unconscious for several days.

Mrs. Hanson was the former Miss Elizabeth Painter, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. F. V. N. Painter, Salem, Virginia. Her father was for 30 years professor of English literature at Roanoke College, Virginia.

Following her marriage to Dr. Hanson on June 1, 1904, the couple spent two years abroad studying at the University of Berlin and the University of Leipzig. Returning to the United States in 1906 they resided in Pittsburgh for six years where Dr. Hanson was pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church. In 1912 Dr. Hanson was named pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, where he served for ten and a half years.

In 1923 Dr. Hanson was elected

Engagement Of Local Girl Is Announced

Mrs. Gladys Raymond Kelley, Springs Ave., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gladys V. Kelley, to Nelson E. Zapf, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Zapf, of Cumberland, Md.

Miss Kelley is a graduate of Gettysburg College and the Pennsylvania State University and is a guidance counselor in the Chambersburg Area Junior High School.

Mr. Zapf, who was active in music circles while in Cumberland, is a former president of the Cumberland Choral Society. He is majoring in music at Gettysburg College and is a member of the Gettysburg A Cappella Choir.

A June wedding is planned.

MRS. H. W. A. HANSON

president of Gettysburg College; a position he filled with distinction until his retirement in 1952. Following Dr. Hanson's retirement the couple resided at 1909 N. Front St., Harrisburg.

During her stay in Gettysburg, Mrs. Hanson became one of the best-loved and most active figures in the town. For almost 30 years she was a "mother" to Gettysburg College students, helping them overcome problems, offering counsel, and frequently serving as host to student gatherings. She was also an active member of the DAR and the Gettysburg College League, serving as president of the latter group for three terms. Mrs. Hanson also dedicated the Student Christian Association building on the campus.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hanson is survived by three sons, Henry W. A. Hanson Jr. and Robert D. Hanson, both attorneys in partnership in Harrisburg, and Rev. T. Painter Hanson, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Belleville, N. J.

LAMP POST TEA ROOM TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

The Lamp Post Corner Tea Room is holding its grand opening Wednesday from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. Breakfasts, platter luncheons and full course dinners will be served. Both the dining room and the grill room, which includes fountain service, will be open.

Includes Grill Room
The grill room, finished in maple and cream colored tile paneling with green and white checkered floor tile and a fiberboard sound-proofed ceiling, is lighted with overhead fluorescent lamps. Furnishings include small light maple tables for two and a maple veneer fountain bar flanked by chrome green leather topped stools.

Mrs. Samuel Reed will manage the tea room, owned by Philip Jones and Clark Smith. Hours will be 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. Besides the regular dining room and grill service the tea room will cater to special parties.

E. Donald Scott Is Elected Chairman Of Adams County Board Of Commissioners Monday

E. Donald Scott, Baltimore 86, was elected chairman of the Adams County Board of Commissioners Monday at the quadrennial reorganization of the board. J. Blaine Bushey, Arendtsville, was named secretary.

The commissioners, meeting immediately after a special session of court at which the new county officials took their oaths of office, renamed practically all of the approximately 30 persons whose appointments are made by the commissioners.

Smith Is Reappointed
Clarence C. Smith was renamed chief clerk to begin his 14th year in that post. Ray J. Snyder was reappointed deputy clerk and Miss Genevieve Taylor, stenographer.

Willis Snyder was renamed sealer of weights and measures; D. Walker Woods, chief assessor; Roy A. Alexander, administrator of veterans affairs; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor, steward and matron at the county home. All other employees at the county home were reappointed.

A change was made in attorneys. Atty. Donald P. McPherson Jr. was named county solicitor, succeeding Eugene V. Bulleit and Atty. Donald G. Oyer was named solicitor for the county institution district, succeeding Franklin R. Bigham.

The two physicians who have been serving alternately the jail and county home were both named as physicians. Dr. C. G. Crist, who had served for some years as both jail and county home physician, resigned about a year ago and Dr. Ira Henderson was named to both posts. When Dr. Henderson was in an auto accident, Dr. Crist resumed the two posts. Monday the commissioners named Dr. Crist as jail physician and Dr. Henderson as county home physician.

Others Renamed
Theodore U. Geiman was renamed custodian at the court house. Raymond Strohm and Floyd E. McMillin R. 2, was reappointed bridge jail. Charles G. Albright, East Berlin R. 2, was reappointed bridge maintenance man for the county.

The new board learned that assessors are needed to fill vacancies in Union and Franklin Twp. and in both wards of Littlestown, and discussed the question briefly. No appointments were made.

Salaries for the various county appointees will be set Wednesday. It was decided, when the commissioners met with the treasurer as the salary board at that time.

The commissioners will continue to meet on Wednesday.

SIX TREATED FOR INJURIES

Six persons were treated Monday at the Warner Hospital for injuries received primarily in falls, four of whom suffered fractures.

Mrs. Robert Sandford, 29, Springfield, Pa., who was visiting friends in the county, fractured her right ankle in a fall.

Ruth Koonitz, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koonitz, Emmitsburg R. 2, received treatment for a sprain of her left ankle sustained when she jumped from a tractor.

Clayton Staub 52, Taneytown R. 1, submitted to partial amputation of his middle finger and was treated for an injured right ring finger. His hand caught in a corn husker.

Couple Honored On 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Spangler, 196 S. Stratton St., celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at a surprise dinner given them by their children at Sanders Restaurant, Hunterstown. The table was decorated with a centerpiece of red and white carnations. The celebrants received numerous gifts.

Those present besides the couple were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Spangler and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard S. Rehmyer, New Freedom, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Spangler and Atty. and Mrs. John A. MacPhail, Gettysburg. A daughter, Mrs. William S. Anderson, Miami, Fla., was not able to attend the dinner. The celebrants have ten grandchildren.

POSTPONE MEETING

The January meeting of the Adams County Historical Society will not be held this evening but has been postponed one week until January 10.

RE-NAME OYLER PRESIDENT OF TOWN COUNCIL

Harry M. "Happy" Oyer, Steinwehr Ave. used car lot owner, was unanimously re-elected president of the Gettysburg Borough Council at its biennial re-organization meeting Monday evening.

All other officials were also re-elected for another term without opposition: Mrs. Anna Dracha, secretary; John H. Basehoar, treasurer; Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit, solicitor; LeRoy H. Winebrenner, engineer, and all the highway workers and police employed by the borough.

Salaries for all were continued as in the past, $1,200 for the treasurer; $480 for the secretary; $3,600 for the engineer; $500 for the solicitor; $3,800 for the chief of police, $3,000 for regular policemen, $1.10 an hour for special policemen; $3,240 for Sloan Hott, foreman of the highway crew, $3,000 for Donald Staub as custodian, health officer and fire marshal; $1.10 an hour for highway workers engaged in ordinary duties, $1.20 an hour when truck driving and $1.30 an hour when handling heavy equipment.

Pay Raises Possible Later
There were some indications council might raise pay rates for some of the employees next month. A new councilman, Glenn Guise, asked whether salaries could be changed. When told the change could come at any time, he moved adoption of the pay scale "until we have a chance to study it."

Gettysburg will have six months of daylight saving time next summer, according to a resolution adopted by the new council. The resolution calls for all meetings at 7:30 p.m. on the first Monday of the month with the exception of May, June, July, August, September and October when the meetings will be at "7 o'clock standard time, 8 o'clock daylight saving time."

Burgess William G. Weaver presided at the opening of the council session.

Committees Named

Weaver administered the oath of office to George Naugle, Harold Ecker, John Millard, Robert D. Fidler, H. M. Oyer and Glenn Guise, all beginning new terms Monday night Oyer and Millard had previously served as councilmen. The other four were "brand new."

Councilmen whose terms did not begin as of Monday night were Philip M. Jones, M. P. Hartzell and E. Donald Rebert.

After the election, Oyer named the following committees for the next two years, with the chairman listed first in each case: Highways, Rebert, Guise and Fidler; Safety, Guise, Hartzell and Naugle; Property, Naugle, Rebert and Millard; Finance, Hartzell, Ecker and Millard; Sewer, Millard, Jones and Guise; Utility, Jones, Fidler and Ecker; Ordinance, Fidler, Naugle and Jones; Health and Mosquitoes, (Continued on Page 3)

MISS M. STALEY PASSES AWAY

Miss Mary Jane Staley, 87, died at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Isaac Staley, 13 S. Peter St., New Oxford, Sunday evening at 9:45 o'clock. She had been in ill health for some time.

Born in Adams County she was the daughter of the late John W. and Sarah Jane Brinkerhauff Staley. She is the last surviving member of her family.

Miss Staley has been a resident of New Oxford for the last six years. Prior to that she lived at Gettysburg R. 5.

She was a life-long member of the Great Coneyago Presbyterian Church in Hunterstown.

Surviving her is her sister-in-law Mrs. J. Isaac Staley, with whom Miss Staley lived.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home in New Oxford. Rev. Herman D. Beatty officiating. Interment in the Great Coneyago Cemetery, Hunterstown. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

HITS PARKED CAR

An automobile driven by Michael F. McMaster, 16, Hanover, struck the car of Louise Weaver, 135 N. Queen St., Littlestown, parked in Hanover at 1:05 a.m. Sunday, according to Hanover police. Total damage was estimated at $175.

New Year Highlights And Other Interesting News In Gettysburg Through 155 Years

It was New Year's 1801 and The Adams Centinel was just seven weeks old. The paper was short of news the first week in January and the subscribers were informed that "the Philadelphia Mail could not cross the Susquehanna on Sunday last at the usual hour, consequently we received no Philadelphia papers this week. We have no further printed accounts respecting the votes for President than we gave last week — however, it is rumored that Mr. Burr received four votes and Mr. Jefferson only three, in Kentucky — We vouch not for the authenticity of this information but give it as we heard it."

At the end of 1800 the following letters lay in the local post office waiting to be claimed, "which if not redeemed before the 1st of April next, will be returned to the General Post Office, as dead letters: Robert Bigham, Marsh Creek; David Dunwoody, near Gettysburg; Thomas Holmes, Adams County; Joseph Kerr, care of Robert Bigham; Neal McCormick, care of Alexander Irwin; James McCulloch, care of Rev. Alexander Dobbin; James Patterson, care of Rev. Alexander Dobbin; Margaret Rainey, care of Rev. A. Dobbin; Matthias Stover, care of Henry Foke; Mrs. Peggy Watson, care of the Rev. John McMillan. James Scott, postmaster." January 6, 1801.

Crockery Shop, Brewery

Conrod Crumbaugh was trying to sell his property in Franklin County at the beginning of 1802. He inserted an advertisement in the Centinel as follows:

"TO BE SOLD, The subscriber's Property, in fee simple, situated on the Main Street, in the town of Mercersburg, Franklin County, viz. One LOT OF GROUND, one hundred and sixty feet in front, the whole containing one acre—whereon is finished an elegant Stone Dwelling, House, 29 by 30 feet, containing four Rooms down stairs.—

"Also — A Crockery Shop and Kiln — a Brewery and Mat-Kiln, with the necessary implements belonging to them. This Valuable Property has on it a never-failing Spring which rises in the Brewery. The whole will be sold together, or one half acre and the Brewery, if it may suit the purchaser. The terms are easy, and will be made known on the application to the

SHEELY TAKES OATH FOR THIRD TERM AS JUDGE; OTHERS SWORN IN

A dozen county officials Monday took an oath to "support, obey and defend the constitutions of the United States and Pennsylvania" and to "discharge my duties with fidelity" at a session of the Adams County court.

First to assume his office by taking the oath was Judge W. C. Sheely, starting an unprecedented third term as president judge of the Adams and Fulton County courts.

Following him came Associate Judge Earl W. Guise, District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, Register and Recorder Carl S. Menchey, Commissioners J. Blaine Bushey, E. Donald Scott and George E. Kane; Auditors Arthur M. Weikert, George M. Conover and Mrs. Laura M. Cratin; Surveyor LeRoy H. Winebrenner and Prothonotary Herbert W. Miller.

Families Were There

Judge Harvey A. Gross, York, presided at the opening of the special court session. Judge Sheely took over immediately after being sworn in. Thus for most of the court there were four judges on the bench. Judges Gross and Sheely and Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and Guise.

About 60 spectators, mostly relatives of the officials, were present for the session. Court Crier George P. Black opened the session with the traditional notice that the "court of quarter sessions, general jail delivery," etc., "is this day in session" and concluding with the traditional "God save the Commonwealth and this honorable court."

Msgr. Patrick M. McGee, pastor of Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church, McSherrytown, gave the opening prayer based on Solomon's prayer when he became king, "Give to thy servant Lord an understanding heart."

Attorney Richard A. Brown presented Judge Sheely's commission to the court, terming him a "man in whom are combined great scholarship and religious faith, who has brought dignity and honor to his county and the law."

New Prothonotary Takes Oath

Judge Gross, recalling that he had also administered the oath to Judge Sheely ten years ago when the local jurist began his second ten-year term in office, said, "I feel highly honored in being designated by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to come here today to administer this oath to you." The 76-year-old York County judge recalled having worked with Judge Sheely's father, "I saw you grow up. I saw you as a young lawyer making your mark, and for the last 20 years have seen you as serving well on the bench."

After Judge Sheely had assumed

WILL CONFER ON TRAIN TROUBLES

Borough and Western Maryland Railway officials will meet in the near future to discuss the problem of trains holding up traffic at street crossings in the community.

Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell Monday evening told council at its session in the engine house: "The Western Maryland held up three street crossings too long last week. I am going to find out why and the trainmaster has promised to come to see me. I am going to have the safety committee and the chief of police with when we have that meeting."

Council President Oyler broke in to declare: "The railroad had this town tied up time and time again. Carlisle St. blocks back into the square and then nothing can move. There is no reason for the long halts made across the crossings. The police should arrest the engineers as they did once before when we had to break up that habit of stopping across crossings."

County Auditors Begin Annual Audit

The Adams County auditors reorganized Monday after a court session at which the new officials took their oath of office. This morning they began the annual audit of the various funds of the county.

George M. Conover was named president; Mrs. Laura M. Cratin, vice president; and Arthur M. Weikert, secretary. Attorney Eugene R. Hartman was named as solicitor. The auditors had a large basket of flowers for their office Monday, a gift of J. T. Kernan of McSherrytown.

Two Are Held For Slaying Western Maryland Student

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two youths faced murder charges today in the knife slaying of a 19-year-old Western Maryland College honor student who planned to become a Methodist minister.

The two, Richard P. Westcott, 16, and Charles Orem, 17, a store clerk, were scheduled to be arraigned today.

Both affect the extreme style of dress and long hair worn by youths who call themselves "drapes."

The victim was Gailher Lee Fischbach Jr., a college freshman home for the holidays. He was attending Western Maryland on a scholarship.

The youth was stabbed to death early Sunday near his home. He had been attending a family New Year's Eve party at the home of Lemuel S. Eichner.

Eichner, who drove Fischbach home and let him off about 200 feet from his house, told police he saw three boys on the corner who appeared to go in different directions as the youth got out of the car.

The boy's mother Mrs. Rhea Fischbach heard her son, calling after he stumbled inside the house. She found him bleeding from a deep chest wound. He died shortly afterward.

"A boy stabbed me," he told his mother before he lost consciousness. "Why did they do it?" asked his father, who said he did not want his son's killer to hang.

"I don't believe in capital punishment," he said.

Orem was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home, and Westcott was arrested at Southwestern Police Station, where he went to inquire about Orem.

THREE EMPLOYEES TO BE PARTNERS

In an announcement Monday, Radford H. Lippy, proprietor of Lippy's Men's Wear, 49 Chambersburg St., revealed the formation of a partnership with three veteran store employees.

The men being taken into the partnership include Paul L. Cornell, who has been with Mr. Lippy for 27 years; Paul F. Sterner, for the last 15 years; and Donald C. Fazenbaker, who has been there for the last 10 years. They will have full charge of the ready-to-wear clothing and haberdashery departments of the store while Mr. Lippy will continue in charge of the custom tailoring department. There will not be any change in the store's name.

One of the oldest businesses in Gettysburg, the store was founded in 1895 by the late John D. Lippy Sr. Radford joined his father as a partner in 1920 and bought out his father's interest in the store in 1940 when an extensive remodeling program was completed.

TWO SEEK DIVORCES

The following divorce actions were listed in Adams County today: Louise Jane (Reese) Currens, 46 Crouse Park, Littlestown, versus Wilbur James Currens, Taneytown R. 1, on grounds of desertion; Virginia Ollie (Musselman) Cline, Iron Springs, versus Oliver Lawrence Cline, Waynesboro R. 4, on grounds of indignities.

At Least 345 Are Killed In Weekend Traffic Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's traffic deaths mounted to a record high for a three-day New Year's holiday over the long weekend.

It was the second consecutive holiday weekend the traffic toll hit a new record. The toll over the New Year weekend, however, was far below the record-breaking 609 for the Christmas holiday a week ago. It also was under the predicted 420.

An Associated Press survey showed that in the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday, 345 persons were killed in traffic accidents. The 69 killed in fires and 71 in miscellaneous accidents brought the over-all total to 485.

The previous high for traffic deaths in a three-day New Year period was 317 in 1953-54. The highest previous over-all mark was 433 in the same year.

The National Safety Council had estimated last week that 420 persons would be killed in motor mishaps during the New Year weekend. But with the death rate running below the estimate yesterday the council said a projection indicated the toll would be around 360. Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said that although the traffic toll was below the council's pre-holiday estimate, "it was far from low enough."

"It certainly is discouraging that here is another record broken in the wrong direction," he said.

The traffic toll of 609 during the Christmas holiday, a record for any holiday period, prompted law enforcement officials to take steps to curb the highway toll during the New Year weekend.

"It seems that all this effort by news media and law enforcement people has at least saved a sizable number of lives," Dearborn said. The traffic toll since the end of World War II has been smaller during the New Year's period than at Christmas.

In a survey over a nonholiday period of 78 hours, The Associated Press counted 364 traffic deaths. The survey was made for comparative purposes and covered a 78-hour period the weekend of Dec. 9-12.

The Christmas traffic deaths averaged nearly 8 per hour. In the New Year period the average was around 4½ per hour.

Mrs. M. Basehoar Dies This Morning

Mrs. Ella Miller Basehoar, 71, of Littlestown R. 2, died this morning in the Hanover Hospital following an illness of several years. She was the daughter of the late Benjamin and Mary Brough Miller.

Surviving are her husband, Millard Basehoar; two children, Mrs. Leroy Palmer, 414 McCosh St., Hanover, and Millard Basehoar Jr., Princeville, Ill.; eight grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Emma Chronister, Hanover R. D.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Frederick Bucher Funeral Home, Hanover, the Rev. William E. Banks officiating. Interment will be in the Rest Haven Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Frederick Bucher Funeral Home Thursday evening.

TOWN CLOSES YEAR IN BLACK; HAS $48,578

Although the borough showed a cash balance of $48,578.06 as of December 31, borough expenses exceeded income in 1955 by several thousand dollars, according to the report of John H. Basehoar, borough treasurer, submitted to council at its meeting Monday evening.

Total income for 1955, according to Basehoar's report, was $115,763.78 but this included $10,000 in funds derived from the sale of bonds previously purchased by council. Total expenditures ran to $105,229.73, but it was anticipated that some December bills are outstanding and these would hike expenditures.

Income for 1955 was $1,837.33 above the $113,926.45 collected in 1954. Expenditures were $105,229.73 in 1955 as compared with $115,383.02 in 1954. But $10,000 of the 1955 income was mainly a bookkeeping figure since the bonds had been purchased earlier.

Meter Income Up
Income during December amounted to $11,039.36 with the funds derived as follows: meter fund, $1,988.02; William G. Weaver, burgess, $8,751.96; R. P. Snyder, justice of the peace, $20; J. H. Weikert, tax collector, $270.02; J. H. Weikert, tax collector, $9.36. The balance in the general fund in December was $48,578.77 making a total of $57,622.13.

Expenditures for December were $9,044.07 including $594.25 for general government and tax; $2,728.58 for protection to person and property; $50 for health and sanitation; $4,725.17 for highway; $78, miscellaneous; $868.07 for light.

Annual expenditures were $11,056.02 for general government and tax; $36,758.65 for protection to person and property; $754.49 for health and sanitation; $41,066.51 for highway; $5,865.24, miscellaneous; $9,786.82 for light. The annual total was $105,229.73.

The balance in the general fund as of December 31, 1955, was $48,578.06, as compared with $38,044.01 on December 31, 1954.

Meter income for 1955 was $26,037.67 as compared with $25,947.09 in 1954.

Mrs. Alveta Weaver Is Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Alveta A. Weaver of 12 N. Peters St., New Oxford, who died Thursday evening at the Warner Hospital, were held Monday morning, meeting at the Fred P. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, at 8:30 o'clock. A requiem Mass followed at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church with the Rev. Fr. Philip J. Gergen as celebrant. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were three grandsons, John E. Nelson and Roger Weaver; and Eugene, Charles and Paul Kuhn.

Rice Sworn In As Cabinet Officer

HARRISBURG (AP) — Henry E. Harner, Harrisburg attorney, today was sworn in to the $15,000-a-year post of secretary of the commonwealth succeeding James A. Finnegan.

Harner, who was sworn in at the post by Superior Court Judge F. Clair Ross, in turn swore in John S. Rice, Gettysburg, as secretary of property and supplies.

Rice succeeds William D. Thomas who resigned to run for Congress.

On hand to welcome the two men to their new positions was Gov. Leader.

"It is a pleasure to have two such capable men in the administration," Leader said.

MRS. H. HANSON DIES TODAY IN D. C. HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, 73, wife of Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president emeritus of Gettysburg College, died this morning at 6:25 o'clock of a cerebral hemorrhage in Casualty Hospital, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Hanson became ill en route from Delray, Florida, where she and her husband had been vacationing. She had been unconscious for several days.

Mrs. Hanson was the former Miss Elizabeth Painter, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. F. V. N. Painter, Salem, Virginia. Her father was for 30 years professor of English literature at Roanoke College, Virginia.

Following her marriage to Dr. Hanson on June 1, 1904, the couple spent two years abroad studying at the University of Berlin and the University of Leipzig. Returning to the United States in 1906 they resided in Pittsburgh for six years where Dr. Hanson was pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church. In 1912 Dr. Hanson was named pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, where he served for ten and a half years.

In 1923 Dr. Hanson was elected president of Gettysburg College, a position he filled with distinction until his retirement in 1932. Following Dr. Hanson's retirement the couple resided at 1909 N. Front St., Harrisburg.

During her stay in Gettysburg, Mrs. Hanson became one of the best-loved and most active figures in the town. For almost 30 years she was a "mother" to Gettysburg College students, helping them overcome problems, offering counsel, and frequently serving as host to student gatherings. She was also an active member of the DAR and the Gettysburg College League, serving as president of the latter group for three terms. Mrs. Hanson also dedicated the Student Christian Association building on the campus.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hanson is survived by three sons, Henry W. A. Hanson Jr. and Robert D. Hanson, both attorneys in partnership in Harrisburg, and Rev. T. Painter Hanson, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Belleville, N. J.

LAMP POST TEA ROOM TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

The Lamp Post Corner Tea Room is holding its grand opening Wednesday from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. Breakfasts, platter lunches and full course dinners will be served. Both the dining room and the grill room, which includes fountain service, will be open.

Includes Grill Room

The grill room, finished in maple and cream colored tile paneling with green and white checkered floor tile and a fiberboard sound-proofed ceiling, is lighted with overhead fluorescent lamps. Furnishings include small light maple tables for two and a maple veneer fountain bar flanked by chrome green leather topped stools.

Mrs. Samuel Reed will manage the tea room, owned by Philip Jones and Clark Smith. Hours will be 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. Besides the regular dining room and grill service the tea room will cater to special parties.

E. Donald Scott, Baltimore St., was elected chairman of the Adams County Board of Commissioners Monday at the quadrennial reorganization of the board. J. Blaine Bushey, Arendtsville, was named secretary.

The commissioners, meeting immediately after a special session of court at which the new county officials took their oaths of office, renamed practically all of the approximately 30 persons whose appointments are made by the commissioners.

Smith Is Reappointed

Clarence C. Smith was renamed chief clerk to begin his 14th year in that post. Ray J. Snyder was re-appointed deputy clerk and Miss Genevieve Taylor, stenographer.

Willis Snyder was renamed sealer of weights and measures; D. Walker Woods, chief assessor; Roy A. Alexander, administrator of veterans affairs; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor, steward and matron at the county home. All other employees at the county home were re-appointed.

A change was made in attorneys. Atty Donald P. McPherson Jr. was named county solicitor, succeeding Eugene V. Bulleit and Atty. Donald G. Oyler was named solicitor for the county institution district, succeeding Franklin R. Bigham.

The two physicians who have been serving alternately the jail and county home were both named as physicians. Dr. C. G. Crist, who had served for some years as both jail and county home physician, resigned about a year ago and Dr. Ira Henderson was named to both posts. When Dr. Henderson was in an auto accident, Dr. Crist resumed the two posts. Monday the commissioners named Dr. Crist as jail physician and Dr. Henderson as county home physician.

Others Renamed

Theodore U. Geiman was renamed custodian at the court house. Raymond Strohm and Floyd E. McMullin R. 2, was reappointed bridge jail. Charles G. Albright, East Berlin R. 2, was reappointed bridge maintenance man for the county. The new board learned that assessors are needed to fill vacancies in Union and Franklin Twp. and in both wards of Littlestown, and discussed the question briefly. No appointments were made.

Salaries for the various county appointees will be set Wednesday, it was decided, when the commissioners meet with the treasurer at the salary board at that time.

The commissioners will continue to meet on Wednesday.

MISS M. STALEY PASSES AWAY

Miss Mary Jane Staley, 87, died at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Isaac Staley, 13 S. Peter St., New Oxford, Sunday evening at 9:45 o'clock. She had been in ill health for some time.

Born in Adams County she was the daughter of the late John W. and Sarah Jane Brinkerhauff Staley. She is the last surviving member of her family.

Miss Staley has been a resident of New Oxford for the last six years. Prior to that she lived at Gettysburg R. 5.

She was a life-long member of the Great Coneyago Presbyterian Church in Hunterstown.

Surviving her is her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Isaac Staley, with whom Miss Staley lived.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fred P. Feiser Funeral Home in New Oxford. Rev. Herman D. Beatty officiating. Interment in the Great Coneyago Cemetery, Hunterstown. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

HITS PARKED CAR

An automobile driven by Michael F. McMaster, 16, Hanover, struck the car of Louise Weaver, 135 N. Queen St., Littlestown, parked in Hansen at 1:05 a.m. Sunday, according to Hanover police. Total damage was estimated at $75.

Engagement Of Local Girl Is Announced

Mrs. Gladys Raymond Kelley, Springs Ave., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gladys V. Kelley, to Nelson E. Zapf, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Zapf, of Cumberland, Md.

Miss Kelley is a graduate of Gettysburg College and the Pennsylvania State University and is a guidance counselor in the Chambersburg Area Junior High School.

Mr. Zapf, who was active in music circles while in Cumberland, is a former president of the Cumberland Choral Society. He is majoring in music at Gettysburg College and is a member of the Gettysburg A Cappella Choir.

A June wedding is planned.

SIX TREATED FOR INJURIES

Six persons were treated Monday at the Warner Hospital for injuries received primarily in falls, four of whom suffered fractures.

Mrs. Robert Sandford, 29, Springfield, Pa., who was visiting friends in the county, fractured her right ankle in a fall.

Ruth Koonz, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koonz, Emmitsburg R. 2, received treatment for a sprain of her left ankle sustained when she jumped from a tractor.

Clayton Staub, 62, Taneytown R. 1, submitted to partial amputation of his middle finger and was treated for an injured right ring finger. His hand caught in a corn husker.

Couple Honored On 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Spangler, 196 S. Stratton St., celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at a surprise dinner given them by their children at Sanders Restaurant, Hunterstown. The table was decorated with a centerpiece of red and white carnations. The celebrants received numerous gifts.

Those present besides the couple were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Spangler and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard S. Rehmever, New Freedom, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Spangler and Atty. and Mrs. John A. MacPhail, Gettysburg. A daughter, Mrs. William S. Anderson, Miami, Fla., was not able to attend the dinner. The celebrants have ten grandchildren.

POSTPONE MEETING

The January meeting of the Adams County Historical Society will not be held this evening but has been postponed one week until January 10.

New Year Highlights And Other Interesting News In Gettysburg Through 155 Years

It was New Year's 1801 and The Adams Centinel was just seven weeks old. The paper was short of news the first week in January and the subscribers were informed that "the Philadelphia Mail could not cross the Susquehanna on Sunday last at the usual hour, consequently we received no Philadelphia papers this week. We have no further printed accounts respecting the votes for President than we gave last week — however, it is rumored that Mr. Burr received four votes and Mr. Jefferson only three, in Kentucky — We vouch not for the authenticity of this information but give it as we heard it."

RE-NAME OYLER PRESIDENT OF TOWN COUNCIL

Harry M. "Happy" Oyler, Steinhewer Ave. used car lot owner, was unanimously re-elected president of the Gettysburg Borough Council at its biennial re-organization meeting Monday evening.

All other officials were also re-elected for another term without opposition: Mrs. Anna Dracha, secretary; John H. Basehoar, treasurer; Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit, solicitor; LeRoy H. Winebrenner, engineer, and all the highway workers and police employed by the borough.

Salaries for all were continued as in the past, $1,200 for the treasurer; $480 for the secretary; $3,600 for the engineer; $500 for the solicitor; $3,800 for the chief of police; $3,000 for regular policemen; $1.10 an hour for special policemen; $3.240 for Sloan Hott, foreman of the highway crew; $3,000 for Donald Staub as custodian, health officer and fire marshal; $1.10 an hour for highway workers engaged in ordinary duties; $1.20 an hour when truck driving and $1.30 an hour when handling heavy equipment.

Pay Raises Possible Later

There were some indications council might raise pay rates for some of the employees next month. A new councilman, Glenn Guise, asked whether salaries could be changed. When

SAYS 10,000 WILL NEED AID IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A light rain, the final trace of another big Pacific storm that threatened to lash flood-battered northern California with gale winds and heavy downpours, fell over wide sections of the flooded regions today.

But the storm itself broke up at sea—permitting the thousands of flood victims to begin the new year with a monumental cleanup unhampered by new flooding.

Meanwhile, the American Red Cross boosted its estimates on what it must spend for relief and rehabilitation in northern California and southern Oregon to "upwards of 7 million dollars." The original estimate was 5 million dollars.

"This is a big job," said Red Cross President Ellsworth Bunker before departing by plane for Washington after a four-day inspection of flood-damaged communities.

He said "between 9,000 and 10,000 families and small businesses" will require Red Cross aid in the disaster areas.

The bodies of two brothers were found yesterday south of Yuba City, north central California.

peach-growing center and one of the worst-hit areas. Their claims increased to 30 the toll in Sutter County and boosted California's total to 57.

Bunker said estimates produced by 300 Red Cross disaster workers now mobilized in the damage area say 28,000 families were affected at the peak of the floods Christmas Eve.

About 4,000 have registered for Red Cross assistance.

Frank Hague, 81, Expires On Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Hague, 81, former political boss whose power was rooted in Jersey City, N.J., and reached to high levels of national Democratic politics, died yesterday.

For some 30 years Hague headed an unbeatable political organization in Jersey City. For one of his eight terms as mayor, the machine gave him a fantastic vote of 110,743 to 6,708.

From his Jersey City ballroom, Hague controlled the Democratic party in New Jersey and for years was the party's national vice chairman.

Hague who retired as mayor in 1947 and gave up his national party post several years later, died at his Park Avenue residence. At his bedside were his wife, Jennie, his son Frank Jr., and an adopted daughter, Peggy.

The son said Hague had died of "pneumonia and complications." He had suffered several heart attacks recently.

The Mongolian Peoples' Republic has been a Soviet satellite since 1924.

SUDAN BECOMES INDEPENDENT

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The Sudan was embarked on its course as a new independent nation today after nearly 57 years of joint rule by Britain and Egypt.

A cheering Parliament yesterday heard Premier Ismail El Azhari read the proclamations announcing recognition of the country's independence by its former rulers. Thousands of other cheering Sudanese lined the streets to hail the premier following the parliamentary session.

The British and Egyptians had jointly ruled the Sudan under a condominium in an agreement concluded Feb. 12, 1953. Britain and Egypt laid out a three-stage

ENROUTE TO STATES
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, arrived in Saigon today on his way back to the United States from Korea where he spent his fifth consecutive Christmas with American troops.

Elect Parliament
It called for election of a Parliament, formation of a government under international supervision and a three-year transition period for the country to choose union with Egypt, independence and possible membership in the British Commonwealth after independence.

The Sudanese rapidly bypassed that schedule.

The Sudanese Parliament voted last August to decide the country's future by plebiscite instead of in a constituent assembly as provided by the British-Egyptian agreement. Britain and Egypt agreed.

Premier El Azhari leaptfrogged that agreement Dec. 15, however, when he announced he was going to proclaim outright independence. He got a unanimous vote from Parliament for such a move four days later.

Britain and Egypt again said they would agree and recognize the country's independence.

A temporary Constitution was approved by Parliament Saturday to serve until a constituent assembly can draw up a permanent charter.

LENTZ POST HAS 531 MEMBERS

Membership in the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion for 1956 totals 531 so far, Adjutant William T. Timmins Jr. reported Monday evening at a meeting of the post in its home on Baltimore St.

The number is approximately 30 higher than the 1955 membership at the beginning of last year. Total membership in 1955 was 1,149.

Richard Curt Altland, East Berlin, was elected to membership Monday evening. Commander Richard Fox reported Christmas gifts had been sent two members of the local post who are patients in veterans' hospitals.

It was announced that the 22nd district meeting originally scheduled to be held January 18 at York Post 794 has been postponed until January 27, at the same place, because of a conflict with a state and regional executive committee meeting to be held at Williamsport.

Paul B. Fox, past commander of the local post and now district commander will be present at the state executive committee session January 21 at Williamsport and William T. Timmins Jr., Central Judicial district chaplain will attend the session of that group at Williamsport January 22.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME MONDAY

Fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hostetter, about two and a half miles west of McSherrystown on Route 116, brought fire companies from McSherrystown, Brushtown, Centennial, and Bonneauville to the scene Monday evening at 6:10 o'clock. The blaze, caused by a short circuit, was confined to the ceiling and floor of the 2½-story stone residence.

Residents of the two-family apartment dwelling were away at the time of the fire which burned out two rooms both upstairs and downstairs and caused some smoke damage. Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Eugene Murren of McSherrystown at several thousand dollars.

Firemen had the blaze out by 7:30 p.m. although they stayed at the house until 10 p.m. as added insurance. Water was pumped from a farm pond adjoining the residence. Murren was unable to reach the Hostetters, who own the house, because they are vacationing in Florida. The name of the second family was not available, since they too were absent.

POLICE CAPTURE ASPERS SPEEDER

E. Wayne Wallen, 17, Aspers R. 1, was in jail this afternoon in default of $25 fine and costs after he had pleaded guilty to charges brought after a police chase at speeds up to 110 miles per hour that ended Monday night when Wallen's car rolled over near McKnightstown.

The youth escaped injury when his car crashed. Police removed him to the county jail where he spent the night while awaiting charges before two justices of the peace this morning.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his operator's license was suspended brought before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He posted $500 bail before Snyder to appear for sentence January 28.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Warren T. Dunn, Cashtown, where he pleaded guilty to speeding, failing to stop at a stop sign, and failing to obey the lawful order of an officer. Unable to pay the $25 fines and $15 costs levied on those three charges, he was removed to jail.

Police said they began following the youth near Bren-Da's Restaurant on the Fairfield road, and clocked the speed at 110 miles an hour at one spot on the chase toward McKnightstown.

County Jail Not As Busy As Last Year

Adams County "entertained" fewer prisoners in 1955 than it did in 1954, according to the annual report of Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz. The records showed 354 prisoners admitted to the jail during the year compared to 360 in 1954. There were 337 male prisoners, compared to 345 in the prior year and 17 female prisoners, compared to 15 in 1954. The average number of prisoners per day was 17½, compared to 18 in the prior year. The highest number in jail at one time was 34, the lowest number seven. The sheriff handled 58 executions and attachments in 1955 compared to 62 in 1954; there were 18 sheriff sales compared to 19; 134 summonses and complaints compared to 162; 59 rules compared to 77, and 22 subpoenas served, compared to 28.

Film Wednesday At Foursquare Church

An invitation is extended the public to attend the film presentation of "Martin Luther," which will be shown Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Foursquare Gospel Church.

Following the film the Christian Education Board of the Sunday School will meet in the pastor's study to make plans for the coming year.

POLICE MAKE 383 ARRESTS

Borough police were busier in 1955 than in 1954 according to an annual report prepared by Chief Jack Bartlett and presented by Burgess William G. Weaver at Monday evening's meeting of borough council at the engine house.

The officers made 106 arrests on criminal charges during the year compared to 82 in 1954. Traffic arrests totaled 273 compared to 185 in the prior year.

Accidents increased in the town, although there were no fatal crashes. The officers investigated 120 traffic accidents in 1955 compared to 93 in the prior year.

Complaints High Complaints (calls to the police for various reasons) totaled 1,829, up almost 500 over the 1,332 recorded in the prior 12 months. The officers provided 173 escorts as compared to 141 in the prior year; assisted other departments 430 times compared to 348 in 1954. Twenty bicycles were reported lost or stolen and the officers found 23. The three for which no owners could be found were turned over to Ernest Simpson for inclusion in the gift of toys to orphanage children at Christmas.

Thirty-four wallets were reported stolen and 29 were recovered. Nineteen missing persons were reported and all located. The report estimated the value of property recovered by police during the year at about $3,500.

"QUIET HOURS"

Often in the quiet hours . . . when the evening lights are low . . . I like to drift in dreamland . . . back into the long ago . . . Where I find a warm contentment . . . and my heart is filled with bliss . . . browsing in the field of memory . . . is to me a magic kiss . . . in my pensive mood I wander . . . reminiscing as I plod . . . on a path aglow with good things . . . preserved by the hand of God . . . seldom does my sojourn lead me . . . to the things which caused regret . . . those are put away forever . . . in the dungeon of forget . . . so I travel unmolested . . . gathering a sweet bouquet . . . which gives off a priceless fragrance . . . like a rosebud picked today . . . when my reverie is ended . . . deep inside I keep the flowers . . . that will bloom again in dreamland . . . when I'm blessed with quiet hours.

day at 2 p.m. from the Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, with the Rev. Dr. Van Horn Davies officiating. Friends may call at the Kimmel Funeral Home, Harrisburg.

Speaking for the college, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, member of the executive interim committee, issued this statement this morning:

"The Gettysburg College community was shocked by the news of Mrs. Hanson's critical condition over the weekend and now is saddened by the report of her passing this morning.

"Her long association with the college continued her as one of us even after her removal from Gettysburg. We shall sorely miss her radiant friendliness and long remember her for her enthusiastic leadership. Our deepest sympathy goes out to her devoted husband and sons who looked to her always for guidance and loving service."

SERVICES FOR CHILD

Funeral services for Teresa Arlene Andrew, aged 16 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Andrew, Emmitsburg, R. 3, who died Friday morning of pneumonia, were held Sunday afternoon from the Emmitsburg Reformed Church. ## RE-NAME OYLER

Ecker, Robert and Hartzell.

Recommend Pay Increase
The First National Bank of Gettysburg was renamed as depository for the borough's funds with the bond to be the same as in the last two years.

Burgess Weaver, delivering his "state of the community" address to council, asked council to consider a "new ordinance for peddling. We have at present a law that pertains only to one-day stands, to discourage peddlers in connection with parades and other festivities. But we have no control over door to door peddlers or the people who come here for a week, rent a room, and compete with out established merchants without paying any taxes or being part of the community.

"I also recommend a ten per cent across the board increase in pay for the borough police, which would be in line with the rest of country.

Backs "Rec" Plan

"I recommend that council purchase a new police car and that the apparatus room at the fire engine house be enlarged by going back through the old boiler room and garage.

"I recommend that the council continue donating $2,000 per year to the fire department. That donation over the last several years has helped make our fire department one of the best equipped in the country. With council purchasing the masks, foam, hose, etc., the fire department has been able to put the money it raises into fire engines. The firemen have bought all of the fire engines. The only one that council paid for is the tractor on the ladder truck. All the rest has been bought by money raised by the firemen.

"I also recommend for favorable consideration the placing of the borough's recreation program on a tax basis."

Order Street Lights

Council voted to have street lights placed at the intersection of Gettys St. and Fairview Ave., at the intersection of Gettys St. and Long Lane and midpoint between those lights. It also voted to have two lights placed on Barlow St. between Stratton and Fourth Sts.

A resolution was passed directing that a 24-inch storm sewer be placed under Barlow St. east of Stratton St. to permit completion of the street building there. The action was taken because passage of an ordinance ordaining an alley and placing the remainder of the storm sewer from Lincoln Ave. to Barlow are still under consideration by the planning commission. Engineer Winebrenner was directed to confer with the planning commission to secure action on the ordinance for the alley to permit placing of the remainder of the pipe.

Committees Assigned Jobs

Robert reported the Highway department needs a new small truck.

Auditors Organize

The present "Diamond T" after 16 years service is worn out, Robert said, "and would cost at least $500 to $600 to repair." When other councilmen asked about purchase of a larger truck to replace it, Engineer Winebrenner said the smaller vehicle was needed "to work under trees, in alleys, and other tight corners where our larger truck cannot operate."

Robert also reported that the town legally can place four-way stop signs at intersections of borough streets and alleys, where no state maintained streets are involved. The Ordinance committee was asked to present a resolution next month covering all places where four-way stop signs are needed. The Highway committee and Finance committees were asked to study the need of a new truck.

The Safety committee was asked to report in February on places where stop signs are needed at the intersections of streets.

Fiscal To Resume Duties
The Finance committee was asked to have a tentative budget ready by the February meeting, and various committee chairmen were told to inform the Finance Committee of needs in 1956 prior to the February session.

Most of Monday night's discussion led to requests for committee action to give the new councilmen time to study various matters.

Council authorized purchase of 200 oak grading stakes and 100 sign posts and the purchase of a carload of tar for street repairs. It was reported at council that Borough Policeman Ralph Fiscel, suspended for six months last summer, will resume his duties as policeman January 8.

SECOND SERMON GIVEN MONDAY

"The New Testament Picture of God" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen of Gettysburg Seminary, at the second preaching mission service Monday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He said that "all religions believe in God, but only in the New Testament do we see God as one who loves all mankind, both good and bad, a love enough to die on the cross."

The service was in charge of the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. There was an anthem by St. John's Senior Choir. Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy, accompanied the choir at the organ. The service concluded with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Karns.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, will preside. There will be an anthem by the Christ Church Choir. The Rev. Dr. Rasmussen will speak on "The Miracle Behind All Miracles."

The worship Wednesday evening will be in charge of the Rev. Joseph Wood, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church. "We Believe in the Holy Ghost" will be the subject of Dr. Rasmussen's sermon. The Littlestown Cub Scouts with their adult supervisors will attend the service in a body. The Cubs will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the church school room and each Cub is asked to wear his uniform.

The preaching mission is being sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium and the public is invited to attend the services.

Tonight's Service In Methodist Church

This evening's service in the Week of Prayer series will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist Church with the Rev. Herman G. Stumpfle Jr., delivering the sermon. His theme will be "He Will Come Again."

The series opened Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Church when Chaplain Edwath E. Korte of Gettysburg College preached. The Monday evening service was held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church when the sermon was delivered by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

The Apostles' Creed is the theme for the week's services that will close Friday evening at the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church.

SHEELY TAKES

his post, retiring Prothonotary Wayne K. Shields presented in order the commissions and certifications for the other county officials.

When Prothonotary Herbert W. Miller had been sworn in, he and Shields shook hands and then Shields, his work completed, stepped down and Miller took over the prothonotary's post.

Judge's Inaugural Remarks

Judge Sheely told the assemblage:

"It is appropriate that we should start off with new officials and new plans on New Year's Day. It is also appropriate for all of us to recall that the people of our county, in electing us to these offices, did not make a gift to us. They have but employed us. They have a right to expect honest and efficient and capable government. The offices are not ours, they belong to the people of the county, we but administer them. I like to think of our government as a large machine made up of many cogs. If each performs his duties well the machine operates well. If but one cog fails, the entire machine breaks down. I am deeply and humbly grateful to the people for the confidence they have shown me. But if I have had any success it has been due to the cooperation of innumerable people. And so my thanks at this time go out to those of the official family who will leave office today, to Harry D. Ridinger, as register and recorder for the last eight years.

"And more particularly, since in the nature of our offices we worked more closely together, to Wayne K. Shields a most efficient, capable and devoted prothonotary, and Associate Judge George P. Taylor whose judgments were most helpful during his capable service on the bench."

The session of court concluded with a prayer by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Miss Eicholtz Retained

Other than the "swearing in" of the officials, the only other business of court was the appointment of Mrs. Anna Foulk Bair as tax collector in Germany Twp. to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband, Cletus M. Bair.

Prothonotary Miller announced the appointment of Miss Edna Eicholtz as his deputy. Miss Eicholtz today began her 16th year as deputy prothonotary, having first filled that post in 1940 when named by then prothonotary Lee M. Hartman. Previously she had been deputy register and recorder.

Retiring Prothonotary Shields planned today to begin new duties as a salesman for Gettysburg Motors. Retiring Register and Recorder

Dig Up Marlowe To Bury Claims Of Shakespeare

LONDON (AP) — The Church of England has given permission to open a tomb in a Kent County church in an effort to determine if Christopher Marlowe wrote the plays attributed to William Shakespeare.

After a hearing in Chislehurst's mellow old St. Nicholas Church, Chancellor Percy Lamb of the diocese of Rochester ruled Maj. John Marston - Townshend, lord of the manor of Scadbury, could open the 16th century tomb believed to contain the body of Marlowe's patron Thomas Walsingham and others of his family.

Partisans of Marlowe hope to find inside papers that will bear out this theory:

Ingenuous Theory
Marlowe, a rising dramatist and poet, fell under suspicion of treason and Queen Elizabeth's privy council ordered his arrest. To save his protegee, Walsingham arranged a tavern stabbing and had a farmer's body identified as Marlowe's.

Then he secluded the poet at one of his estates, where Marlowe turned out "Hamlet," "King Lear" and the rest of the dramas. To get the plays produced, Walsingham hired a dull poacher recently come to London, William Shakespeare of Stratford-on-Avon, to give them his name.

The pro-Marlowe scholars figure Walsingham would not have died without leaving some evidence of his great secret. They reckon his tomb was the logical hiding place.

Calvin Hoffman, a New York writer, has been one of the most energetic of those seeking to have the tomb opened, but he was not mentioned in the hearing at Chislehurst.

The lord of the manor said he has set no date to commence operations.

"QUIET HOURS"

Often in the quiet hours . . . when the evening lights are low . . . I like to drift in dreamland . . . back into the long ago . . . where I find a warm contentment . . . and my heart is filled with bliss . . . browsing in the field of memory . . . is to me a magic kiss . . . In my pensive mood I wander . . . reminiscing as I plod . . . on a path aglow with good things . . . preserved by the hand of God . . . seldom does my sojourn lead me . . . to the things which caused regret . . . those are put away forever . . . in the dungeon of forget . . . so I travel unmolested . . . gathering a sweet bouquet . . . which gives off a priceless fragrance . . . like a rosebud picked to-day . . . when my reverie is ended . . . deep inside I keep the flowers . . . that will bloom again in dreamland . . . when I'm blessed with quiet hours.

MRS. H. HANSON

day at 2 p.m. from the Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, with the Rev. Dr. Van Horn Davies officiating. Friends may call at the Kimmel Funeral Home, Harrisburg.

Speaking for the college, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, member of the executive interim committee, issued this statement this morning:

"The Gettysburg College community was shocked by the news of Mrs. Hanson's critical condition over the weekend and now is saddened by the report of her passing this morning.

"Her long association with the college continued her as one of us even after her removal from Gettysburg. We shall sorely miss her radiant friendliness and long remember her for her enthusiastic leadership. Our deepest sympathy goes out to her devoted husband and sons who looked to her always for guidance and loving service."

SERVICES FOR CHILD

Funeral services for Teresa Ariene Andrew, aged 16 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Andrew, Emmitsburg R. 3, who died Friday morning of pneumonia, were held Sunday afternoon from the Emmitsburg Reformed Church. The pastor, the Rev. Edmund Welker, and the Rev. Philip Bower, Emmitsburg Lutheran pastor, officiated. Interment was made in Bethel Church Cemetery, Washington County, Md. The pallbearers were George Koontz, Rodney Herring, Joseph Andrew and Howard Wetzel.

Ecker, Robert and Hartzell.

Recommend Pay Increase

The First National Bank of Gettysburg was renamed as depository for the borough's funds with the bond to be the same as in the last two years.

Burgess Weaver, delivering his "state of the community" address to council, asked council to consider a "new ordinance for peddling. We have at present a law that pertains only to one-day stands, to discourage peddlers in connection with parades and other festivities. But we have no control over door to door peddlers or the people who come here for a week, rent a room, and compete with out established merchants without paying any taxes or being part of the community.

"I also recommend a ten per cent across the board increase in pay for the borough police, which would be in line with the rest of the country.

Backs "Rec" Plan

"I recommend that council purchase a new police car and that the apparatus room at the fire engine house be enlarged by going back through the old boiler room and garage.

"I recommend that the council continue donating $2,000 per year to the fire department. That donation over the last several years has helped make our fire department one of the best equipped in the country. With council purchasing the masks, foam, hose, etc., the fire department has been able to put the money it raises into fire engines. The firemen have bought all of the fire engines. The only one that council paid for is the tractor on the ladder truck. All the rest has been bought by money raised by the firemen.

"I also recommend for favorable consideration the placing of the borough's recreation program on a tax basis."

Order Street Lights

Council voted to have street lights placed at the intersection of Gettys St. and Fairview Ave., at the intersection of Gettys St. and Long Lane and midpoint between those lights. It also voted to have two lights placed on Barlow St. between Stratton and Fourth Sts.

A resolution was passed directing that a 24-inch storm sewer be placed under Barlow St. east of Stratton St. to permit completion of the street building there. The action was taken because passage of an ordinance ordaining an alley and placing the remainder of the storm sewer from Lincoln Ave. to Barlow are still under consideration by the planning commission. Engineer Winebrenner was directed to confer with the planning commission to secure action on the ordinance for the alley to permit placing of the remainder of the pipe.

Committees Assigned Jobs

Auditors Organize

The present "Diamond T" after 16 years service is worn out, Robert said, "and would cost at least $500 to $600 to repair." When other councilmen asked about purchase of a larger truck to replace it, Engineer Winebrenner said the smaller vehicle was needed "to work under trees, in alleys, and other tight corners where our larger truck cannot operate."

Robert also reported that the town legally can place four-way stop signs at intersections of borough streets and alleys, where no state maintained streets are involved. The Ordinance committee was asked to present a resolution next month covering all places where four-way stop signs are needed. The Highway committee and Finance committees were asked to study the need of a new truck.

The Safety committee was asked to report in February on places where stop signs are needed at the intersections of streets.

Fiscal To Resume Duties

The Finance committee was asked to have a tentative budget ready by the February meeting, and various committee chairmen were told to inform the Finance Committee of needs in 1956 prior to the February session.

Most of Monday night's discussion led to requests for committee action to give the new councilmen time to study various matters.

Council authorized purchase of 200 oak grading stakes and 100 sign posts and the purchase of a carload of tar for street repairs. It was reported at council that Borough Policeman Ralph Fiscel, suspended for six months last summer, will resume his duties as policeman January 8.

SECOND SERMON GIVEN MONDAY

"The New Testament Picture of God" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen of Gettysburg Seminary, at the second preaching mission service Monday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He said that "all religions believe in God, but only in the New Testament do we see God as one who loves all mankind, both good and bad, and a love enough to die on the cross."

The service was in charge of the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church. There was an anthem by St. John's Senior Choir. Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy, accompanied the choir at the organ. The service concluded with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Karns.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, will preside. There will be an anthem by the Christ Church Choir. The Rev. Dr. Rasmussen will speak on "The Miracle Behind All Miracles."

The worship Wednesday evening will be in charge of the Rev. Joseph Wood, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church. "We Believe In The Holy Ghost" will be the subject of Dr. Rasmussen's sermon. The Littlestown Cub Scouts with their adult supervisors will attend the service in a body. The Cubs will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the church school room and each Cub is asked to wear his uniform.

The preaching mission is being sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium and the public is invited to attend the services.

Tonight's Service In Methodist Church

This evening's service in the Week of Prayer series will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist Church with the Rev. Herman G. Stuepfle Jr., delivering the sermon. His theme will be "He Will Come Again."

The series opened Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Church when Chaplain Edwirth E. Korte of Gettysburg College preached. The Monday evening service was held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church when the sermon was delivered by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

The Apostles' Creed is the theme for the week's services that will close Friday evening at the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church.

SHEELY TAKES

his post, retiring Prothonotary Wayne K. Shields presented in order the commissions and certifications for the other county officials.

When Prothonotary Herbert W. Miller had been sworn in, he and Shields shook hands and then Shields, his work completed, stepped down and Miller took over the prothonotary's post.

Judge's Inaugural Remarks

Judge Sheely told the assemblage: "It is appropriate that we should start off with new officials and new plans on New Year's Day. It is also appropriate for all of us to recall that the people of our county, in electing us to these offices, did not make a gift to us. They have but employed us. They have a right to expect honest and efficient and capable government. The offices are not ours, they belong to the people of the county, we but administer them. I like to think of our government as a large machine made up of many cogs. If each performs his duties well the machine operates well. If but one cog fails, the entire machine breaks down. I am deeply and humbly grateful to the people for the confidence they have shown me. But if I have had any success it has been due to the cooperation of innumerable people. And so my thanks at this time go out to those of the official family who will leave office today, to Harry D. Ridinger, as register and recorder for the last eight years.

"And more particularly, since in the nature of our offices we worked more closely together, to Wayne K. Shields a most efficient, capable and devoted prothonotary, and Associate Judge George P. Taylor whose judgments were most helpful during his capable service on the bench."

The session of court concluded with a prayer by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Miss Eicholtz Retained

Other than the "swearing in" of the officials, the only other business of court was the appointment of Mrs. Anna Foulk Bair as tax collector in Germany Twp. to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband, Cletus M. Bair.

Prothonotary Miller announced the appointment of Miss Edna Eicholtz as his deputy. Miss Eicholtz today began her 16th year as deputy prothonotary, having first filled that post in 1940 when named by then prothonotary Lee M. Hartman. Previously she had been deputy register and recorder.

Retiring Prothonotary Shields planned today to begin new duties as a salesman for Gettysburg Motors. Retiring Register and Recorder

Dig Up Marlowe To Bury Claims Of Shakespeare

LONDON (AP) — The Church of England has given permission to open a tomb in a Kent County church in an effort to determine if Christopher Marlowe wrote the plays attributed to William Shakespeare.

After a hearing in Chislehurst's mellow old St. Nicholas Church, Chancellor Percy Lamb of the diocese of Rochester ruled Maj. John Marsham - Townshend, lord of the manor of Scadbury, could open the 16th century tomb believed to contain the body of Marlowe's patron Thomas Walsingham and others of his family.

Partisans of Marlowe hope to find inside papers that will bear out this theory:

Ingenious Theory

Marlowe, a rising dramatist and poet, fell under suspicion of treason and Queen Elizabeth's privy council ordered his arrest. To save his protegee, Walsingham arranged a tavern stabbing and had a farmer's body identified as Marlowe's.

Then he secluded the poet at one of his estates, where Marlowe turned out "Hamlet," "King Lear" and the rest of the dramas. To get the plays produced, Walsingham hired a dull poacher recently come to London, William Shakespeare of Stratford-on-Avon, to give them his name.

The pro-Marlowe scholars figure Walsingham would not have died without leaving some evidence of his great secret. They reckon his tomb was the logical hiding place.

Calvin Hoffman, a New York writer, has been one of the most energetic of those seeking to have the tomb opened, but he was not mentioned in the hearing at Chislehurst.

The lord of the manor said he has set no date to commence operations.

LENTZ POST HAS 531 MEMBERS

Membership in the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion for 1956 totals 531 so far, Adjutant William T. Timmins Jr. reported Monday evening at a meeting of the post in his home on Baltimore St.

The number is approximately 30 higher than the 1955 membership at the beginning of last year. Total membership in 1955 was 1,149.

Richard Curt Aldland, East Berlin, was elected to membership Monday evening. Commander Richard Fox reported Christmas gifts had been sent two members of the local post who are patients in veterans' hospitals.

It was announced that the 22nd district meeting originally scheduled to be held January 18 at York Post 794 has been postponed until January 27, at the same place, because of a conflict with a state and regional executive committee meeting to be held at Williamsport.

Paul B. Fox, past commander of the local post and now district commander will be present at the state executive committee session January 21 at Williamsport and William T. Timmins Jr., Central Judicial district chaplain will attend the session of that group at Williamsport January 22.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME MONDAY

Fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hostetter, about two and a half miles west of McSherrystown on Route 116, brought fire companies from McSherrystown, Brunsford, Centerville, and Bonnevillerville to the scene Monday evening at 6:10 o'clock. The blaze, caused by a short circuit, was confined to the ceiling and floor of the 2½-story stone residence.

Residents of the two-family apartment dwelling were away at the time of the fire which burned out two rooms both upstairs and downstairs and caused some smoke damage. Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Eugene Murren of McSherrystown at several thousand dollars.

Firemen had the blaze out by 7:30 p.m. although they stayed at the house until 10 p.m. as added insurance. Water was pumped from a farm pond adjoining the residence. Murren was unable to reach the Hostettters, who own the house, because they are vacationing in Florida. The name of the second family was not available, since they too were absent.

POLICE CAPTURE ASPERS SPEEDER

E. Wayne Wallen, 17, Aspers R. 1, was in jail this afternoon in default of $25 fine and costs after he had pleaded guilty to charges brought after a police chase at speeds up to 110 miles per hour that ended Monday night when Wallen's car rolled over near McKnightstown.

The youth escaped injury when his car crashed. Police removed him to the county jail where he spent the night while awaiting charges before two justices of the peace this morning.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his operator's license was suspended brought before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He posted $500 bail before Snyder to appear for sentence January 28.

He was then taken before Justice of the Peace Warren T. Dunn, Cashtown, where he pleaded guilty to speeding, failing to stop at a stop sign, and failing to obey the lawful order of an officer. Unable to pay the $25 fines and $15 costs levied on those three charges, he was removed to jail.

Police said they began following the youth near Bren-Da's Restaurant on the Fairfield road, and clocked the speed at 110 miles an hour at one spot on the chase toward McKnightstown.

County Jail Not As Busy As Last Year

Adams County "entertained" fewer prisoners in 1955 than it did in 1954, according to the annual report of Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz.

The records showed 354 prisoners admitted to the jail during the year compared to 360 in 1954. There were 337 male prisoners, compared to 345 in the prior year and 17 female prisoners, compared to 15 in 1954. The average number of prisoners per day was 17½, compared to 18 in the prior year. The highest number in jail at one time was 34, the lowest number seven. The sheriff handled 58 executions and attachments in 1955 compared to 62 in 1954; there were 18 sheriff sales compared to 19; 134 summons and complaints compared to 162; 59 rules compared to 77, and 22 subpoenas served, compared to 28.

Film Wednesday At Foursquare Church

An invitation is extended the public to attend the film presentation of "Martin Luther," which will be shown Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Foursquare Gospel Church.

Following the film the Christian Education Board of the Sunday School will meet in the pastor's study to make plans for the coming year.

Police said Robert John Fitzmaurice, 19, Erie, a seaman in the Navy, was attempting a U-turn on the Taneytown Rd. when Donald L. Marling, 18, Gettysburg R. 1, leaving the avenue, collided with Fitzmaurice's car. Damage was $30 to each vehicle.

The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Vital Registrars Named: Dr. S. G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, last week announced his appointment of registrars of vital statistics for Adams county as follows: C. S. Rice, Ardenstville; D. P. Delap, Bendersville; Charles Hafer, Abbottstown; H. W. King, East Berlin; Jas. E. Glenn, M.D., Fairfield; Henry Stewart, M.D., Gettysburg; R. A. Hartman, Littlestown; George L. Rice, M.D., McSherrystown; William R. Snyder, New Oxford; C. L. Myers, M.D., York Springs.

Wedding Bells: Wineman-Mickley — Last evening at 8 o'clock a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Mickley, Carlisle street, when their second daughter, Miss Daisie Myrtle, became the bride of Jacob B. Wineman.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home under a bell of Southern moss. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, cut flowers, etc. The wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of a wedding march rendered by Miss Eleanor Wolf, of Glen Rock. They were met by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. A. Clutz, D.D., who very impressively performed the ceremony.

Miss L. Virginia Mickley, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Frank Happel, of Blue Ridge Summit, was best man. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk and carried carnations. The bridesmaid wore Persian lawn and also carried carnations.

After the ceremony refreshments were served. There were about 50 guests present. The bride was remembered by many beautiful and useful presents.

Both the bride and groom are popular and have many friends. They will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Mickley for a time.

Glass-Prosper: Quite a surprise was created in this place last week when the news reached here that Miss Emma Prosser, daughter of V. H. Prosser, proprietor of the Central Hotel, was married in Hagerstown to John B. Glass, who for some time has been bartender at the above hotel. The couple returned to Gettysburg Thursday evening and later went to Emmitsburg, where the groom resides.

Happy Family Reunion: On last Tuesday, Dec. 26th, Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Martin had the extreme happiness of having about them for the first time in many years, nearly all their sons and daughters, daughters-in-law and grandchildren. These, including their dearly beloved pastor, Rev. T. J. Crotty, to the number of seventeen at 3 p.m., sat down to a sumptuous repast. Good cheer reigned throughout and continued not only till late at night but every day to the end of the week, so that by frequent story telling and recalling of childhood incidents and experiences, interspersed with vocal and instrumental musical selections, recitations, toasts and games, the hearts of the old folks were rejuvenated like those of the youthful ones about them whilst from time to time their exuberant feelings irresistibly displayed themselves in tears of joy and delight.

Besides the above mentioned persons there were present Mrs. Laura Roddy and two sons, Joe and Martin, of Philadelphia; Vincent W. and wife, Harrisburg; Mrs. Emily Bamer and daughters, Mary, Genevieve, Zita and Grace, Gettysburg; Rev. Father Martin, Elizabethtown; A. S. Martin and wife, Burlington, Iowa, and J. Leo Martin, Providence, R. I.

Roth: Elizabeth V., six-month-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. H. Milton Roth, died Friday evening about 5 o'clock at her home on North Washington street.

The little one, which was the youngest of four children, had been suffering with whooping cough and contracted pneumonia, from which she died.

Funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz conducting the services. Interment in

Today's Talk

WHY?

The world's greatest scourge has always been war. Its cost in tears, destruction and human suffering is beyond all accounting. The entire wealth of the world has been dissipated in its pursuit. But nothing has been learned. When will it end? Why will little groups in nations persist in stirring it up?

Nearly two hundred years ago, the great Dr. Johnson wrote a pamphlet in which he said that war was "a calamity so dreadful that it is astonishing how civilized, nay, Christian nations can deliberately continue to renew it." Yet, after our so-called civilization had seemed to have reached its zenith at the inception of the twentieth century, war broke out anew and has given to this so-called civilization of ours a challenge that must give the very angels in Heaven cause for the deepest pity toward all human kind.

Behind the inception of all wars is greed, but the aftermath is death and desolation. Those who initiate wars are always in the minority. Those who pay for them are in the majority. Why must war go on when its final picture may be the final death of all that mankind has held dear and of what?

Only about one and a half percent of the American national income is spent for education among the young. Figure up the cost of American battleships, not to mention the cost of other means of destruction, such as the atomic bomb outlay of some billions. Even one modern battleship costs in excess of $50,000,000. On the United States coins are placed the motto "In God We Trust." But this is not engraved upon any of our battleships or our bombs! Why?

We are never going to have peace and good will in this world so long as the majority of so-called "conferences" are turned into real estate transactions — concerning property that belongs to the people — and not to those who are selected to trade this property off for selfish ends.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Doorways"

Just Folks

THE MIGRATING MILLIONAIRES

Southward the rich depart.
Leaving the snow behind,
Quitting the busy mart,
Dodging the ceaseless grind;
Cutting away from cares,
Taking their clubs along;
Migrating millionaires,
Hear now my plaintive song.

I yearn for skies of blue,
I long for days of ease,
I long for sunshine, too,
I like the summer breeze,
I feel the wintry blast,
I'd like to dodge the snow,
But I am stuck here fast—
Only the rich birds go.

Only the plumaged-fine,
Only the feathered gay,
Nest in the southern pine
Where gentle breezes play.
I'd like to migrate where
Laughter and song are heard,
I'd like to fly down there,
But I'm no wealthy bird.

But it's the snow for me—
Snow, slush and ice;
Southward I cannot flee;
I lack the price.
If with you birds of pride
I should migrate,
Bumpers I'd have to ride
Under some freight.

MID-WINTER UNION VESPERS ARE SCHEDULED

A schedule for mid-winter union vesper services was arranged at the bi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Ministerium Monday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The vespers will be held at 7:30 p.m. on the following dates: January 15 in Centenary Methodist Church, Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Church, will secure the guest speaker; January 22, in St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, and the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, pastor of Redeemer's Church, will secure the speaker; January 29, in St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Church, secures the speaker; February 5, St. Paul's Church, Rev. William A. Ellsworth Jr., pastor of St. James' Reformed Church, secures; February 12, Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. Joseph Wood, pastor of Centenary Church, secures; February 19, Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Church, secures.

The church in which the service will be held will provide the choir. The pastor of the host church will conduct the worship and the pastor who secures the speaker will introduce the guest minister.

WGCT Devotions
The meeting Monday opened with prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Ellsworth. Rev. Mr. Koons, president, presided.

Several members of the Ministerium will conduct the morning devotions on radio station, WGCT, at 8:45 a.m. on the following dates: January 30, Rev. Mr. Koons; February 1, Rev. Mr. Ellsworth; February 4, Rev. Mr. Seiwel. A committee consisting of the Rev. Mr. Kammerer and the Rev. Mr. Karns was appointed to make a study of the kind of literature which is currently available to the youth of the community.

The Ministerium will meet again on Monday, March 5.

EDEN DISCUSSES EASTERN CRISIS WITH CABINET

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden called his Cabinet today to discuss the growing crisis in the Middle East and to consider Laborite demands for parliamentary debate on the government's policy of selling arms to Arabs and Israelis.

Eden assembled his minister after meeting Labor party leader Hugh Gattiskell and turning down a Socialist request that he invite the Kremlin to help maintain peace in the explosive Middle East.

The Cabinet meeting preceded an emergency conference tomorrow between Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and British ambassadors to eight Middle East countries who were suddenly ordered back to London.

Israeli Warning
Accompanying the flurry of diplomatic activity was a warning by Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion that Israel must be ready for imminent war with her Arab neighbors. Ben-Gurion told his Parliament, however, that was not "unavoidable."

Britain's press kept up a barrage of criticism against the Eden government over revelations that old British tanks and other surplus World War II goods have trickled through Belgium to the Middle East.

The government issued a statement pledging anew to do all in its power to prevent a Middle East arms race.

Embargo Lifted
At the same time, it partially lifted its recent embargo on war surplus goods. It said such goods should be shipped abroad if governments of the countries concerned could guarantee the material would not be reconditioned and resold for military purposes.

In response to Gattiskell's request for a "new approach" to Russia on Middle East issues, Eden said he already had made futile overtures to the Russians, who are busy wooing the Arab world and channeling arms to Egypt.

The Soviet answer, he said, "was not in the Geneva spirit." He said he doubted a new approach could gain anything "unless there was a change in the Russian attitude."

Middle East Topic
He said he undoubtedly would discuss the Middle East situation when he meets President Eisenhower in Washington later this month.

This was believed one of the reasons for Lloyd's sudden decision to summon Britain's Middle East envoys for talks here. It was reported they will be consulted in preparation for the Eden-Eisenhower meeting.

Henry Byroade, U.S. ambassador to Egypt, was slated to leave for Washington today on what was believed a similar mission to Secretary of State Dulles.

13 Highway Fatalities Fall Far Below Expected Holiday Toll; Seven Killed In Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An intensive law enforcement campaign and the sobering memory of last week's heavy death toll served to hold Pennsylvania's New Year's holiday traffic fatality list to 13. Seven persons died in other types of mishaps over the three-day weekend.

The highway toll contrasted sharply with the 25 deaths listed for the Christmas holiday weekend.

Police were out in force over the New Year's weekend. That was credited with helping bring about the comparatively light death toll. Repeated safety pleas by officials also apparently had some effect on Pennsylvania's motoring thousands.

Report Worst Crash

The worst crash reported in the state occurred near Pottstown Saturday night. Two persons met death in that accident—Paul R. Crocetti, 27, Perkiomenville, Pa., and Luter Hunsinger, 25, Pottstown. Police said they were unable to determine who was driving when the automobile swerved off Swamp pike seven miles north of Pottstown.

Mrs. Theresa Presenza, 61, Philadelphia, died Monday of injuries sustained in an automobile crash Sunday night. Donald J. Stetler, 24, of Danville, R. 4, was killed Monday when his motorcycle sideswiped a truck and hooked onto the larger vehicle's bumper. Stetler was thrown off his machine.

Car Hits Pole
John Gorman, 50, was killed when his car struck a pole in his home town of Landsale. Police said he fell asleep at the wheel. James W. Slater, 50, of Fairview Village near Norristown, was struck and killed by a car on Germantown pike in Worcester Township.

Accidental deaths Saturday:
David J. Francis, borough chief of police at Kingston, was killed when his shotgun discharged while he was attempting to strike a stray dog with it.

Suffers Third Degree Burns
Samuel P. Marino, 50, died of third degree burns in an explosion and fire at his home in Clearfield.

Mrs. Evelyn Kepplinger, 40, of Trevoze, Bucks County, was struck and killed by a car while crossing old Lincoln Highway near her home.

Another pedestrian killed by a car, John Bollinger, 57, York, was struck on a York street. Russell H. Yaw, 39, an executive for the York Corp. in York was shot and killed when his gun discharged accidentally while he was removing it from his car.

Faure And Mendes-France Lead In France's Voting

PARIS (AP)—France today looked forward to more years of shaky coalition governments as the rival moderate factions of Premier Edgar Faure and ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France split the majority of returns from the National Assembly elections.

The Communists and Pierre Poujade's tax rebels piled up unexpected gains. The Reds actually were running slightly behind their 1951 popular vote, but the moderate split—breaking up anti-Red alliances successful in 1951—gave the Communists more seats.

With returns in for 500 of the 544 seats filled in European France, these were the major Assembly standings from the voting yesterday:

170 For Faure
Faure's right-center coalition—170 seats, less than expected due partly to inroads of the Poujadists.

Mendes-France's leftist "Republican Front"—140, including 81 for the Socialists.

Communists — 135, already 36 more than the 99 they held in the last Assembly.

Poujadists — 46, a lot more than the 4 to 8 observers had conceded them before the voting. They had jumped to prominence only last year with their leader's campaign against paying taxes.

An estimated 25 million voters turned out, a record for France.

Services Wednesday For Mrs. John Bair

Mrs. Edith N. Bair, 70, Littlestown R. 2, widow of John E. Bair, died at 7:50 p.m. Sunday at her home. She was a daughter of the late Martin M. and Mary Longenecker Frey.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. Vincent Hobaugh, Seven Valleys R. 1; Martha Bair, Hanover; Mrs. Theron Hess, Shelltown, Md.; and Daniel F. Bair, Littlestown R. 2; five grandchildren, and these brothers and sisters: Clarence C. Frey, York; Samuel A. Frey, Hanover R. 2; Allen L. Frey, Hanover R. 3; and Mrs. Arthur Louden, Baltimore. She was a member of the Mennonite Church, Hanover.

Funeral services at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Mennonite Church. The body will lie in state from noon until the time of the funeral. Bishops Richard Danner and Harvey Grove will officiate. Interment in York Road Cemetery.

RE-NAME KLUNK PRESIDENT OF TOWN COUNCIL

Fred G. Klunk was re-elected president of the New Oxford borough council at its re-organization meeting Monday evening in the fire company building. The election came after four newly-elected members of council had been given their oaths of office. Secretary C. P. Keefer presided during Klunk's election.

The oaths of office were administered by Burgess Guy A. Staub to Councilmen J. R. Robinson, John L. Kratzert, A. W. Rohrbach and John P. Smith.

President Klunk, who had no opposition for re-election as council president, took the chair while council completed its elections. A. W. Rohrbach was named vice president. Lawrence C. Bevenour was re-elected borough manager and his salary was set at $3,600 on a roll call vote. John M. Acker was re-elected borough treasurer and C. P. Keefer was named secretary for another two-year term. The salaries of Archer and Keefer remained the same as for last year.

The water committee was instructed to proceed immediately to secure parts for the repair of valves at the waterplant and dates will be set for property holders to meet to set releases on Hanover and Carlisle Sts. No complete financial report was available from the treasurer but he said the borough ended the year with a balance in its treasury.

Regular salaries and bills were ordered paid.

Names Clark To River Committee

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Richardson Dilworth has named former Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. as a member of the Delaware River Basin Survey Committee. It was one of Dilworth's first official acts after being sworn in yesterday.

Clark will succeed Dr. Gilbert F. White, former president of Haverford College, in the nonpaying post. The commission is a six-member agency to set up and supervise a study leading to a plan for the comprehensive development of the Delaware River basin.

Its primary function deals with providing an equitable and adequate supply for the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Oklahoma, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Mississippi Win In Grid Bowl Battles

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Master of all it surveyed, Oklahoma today stood as the Goliath of college football for 1955.

Bud Wilkinson's rib-cracking Sooners, 20-6 victors over Maryland in the Orange Bowl yesterday, won't hear the taunt of "weak schedule" for a long time to come.

As a member of the relatively weak Big Seven, Oklahoma plays a full conference schedule. As a result, the team sometimes does emerge as an unknown quantity.

The manner in which the Sooners handled Maryland, tightest major defensive outfit in the nation, before a crowd of 76,561 in Miami simply emphasized that they rated their No. 1 ranking.

Two years ago, Maryland had been voted the mythical national title, only to fall before Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Old Miss Triumph

Two of the three other major bowls followed expectations. Michigan State eked out a final seven-second victory over UCLA before 100,809 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., 17-14, and Georgia Tech turned back Pitt 7-0 before 80,173 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Not so expected was Mississippi's 14-13 decision over Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, with a gathering of 75,504 looking on.

In the second-line games, Missouri Valley and Juniata, Pa., fought to a 6-6 tie in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.; Wyoming whipped Texas Tech 21-14 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.; and Prairie View State humbled Flsk 59-0 in the Prairie View Bowl at Houston, Tex.

Second Stringers Score

Two of Oklahoma's three touchdowns were scored by second stringers—and the Sooners had to come from behind like champions to gain their triumph. Trailing 6-0 in the third period as a result of Ed Vereb's 15-yard jaunt in the second quarter, the Sooners tore Maryland apart with two scores in the third quarter and one in the fourth.

Oklahoma's skinny All American halfback Tommy McDonald notched the first Sooner touchdown on a four-yard dash. Billy Frier converted and that was all that was needed. But Jay O'Neal went over from the 1 and Carl Dodd intercepted one of Lynn Beigholt's passes and ran 82 yards for the final score.

Not Big But Fast

"The teams were about even," acknowledged Wilkinson later. "We got the breaks and they didn't. We are not big and what we do is fast. The tension was off when we scored the first time we got the ball in the second half."

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum was lavish in his praise of the Sooners. "Oklahoma is the best college football team in the country," he said. "They were in better physical shape. They handled themselves better. They outthrusted us. They had too much speed."

But it remained for the Terps' All America center Bob Pellegrini to explain the whole thing.

"They came out of their huddle so fast, we couldn't adjust our defenses to meet them," he said.

Big 10 Hold Big Margin

The accurate toe of Dave Kaiser enabled Michigan State to pull the victory out over UCLA and maintain the Big Ten's whammy over the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl. The series count now stands 9-1.

With a 14-14 tie seven seconds before the end, Kaiser calmly came off the bench to kick a field goal from 31 yards out. Only a few minutes earlier, UCLA had fought back to a tie when Doug Peters, climbing the passing drive of Ronnie Kneib, went over from the 1.

The Spartans broke a 7-7 deadlock early in the fourth quarter on a 67-yard pass play from Clarence Peaks to John Big Thunder Lewis.

Said Young Kaiser later:

"I didn't have time to think of feeling anything a tail. But I knew when my foot hit the ball that it was going to be good."

Score On Break

The only score in the Sugar Bowl came when Georgia Tech took advantage of a break. In the first quarter, Wade Mitchell passed from the 32 to Don Ellis, who was on the 2.

Pitt defender Bobby Grier tried to block the pass and in the process pushed Ellis. He was charged with interference. The ball was given to the Engineers on the 5. Two plays later Mitchell sneaked over from the 1, then kicked the extra point.

Grier later denied pushing Ellis and said the penalty should have been called the other way.

"He pushed me from behind," Grier said. "That's why I fell forward."

Call It Either Way

Pitt Coach Johnny Michelson said from where he sat the play could have been called either way. Tech

FIGHTING ILLINI TOP MICHIGAN STATE, 73-65

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

They don't call Illinois the "Fighting Illini" for nothing.

The courageous gang from Champaign got Michigan State dizzy with a sensational second-half rally last night that brought it a 73-65 Big Ten basketball victory as the conference competition got under way.

Trailing by 18 points in the first half, Illinois came with a rush to deadlock the Spartans 51-51 in the second half. Then, after, falling a point behind, the Illini moved in front to stay when Bill Ridley scored four straight points.

Scores Impressively

Ohio State, which along with Illinois, is given the best chance of relieving Iowa of the league title, also scored impressively, 79-66 over Michigan.

Indiana rounced Northwestern 94-81 and Purdue defeated Wisconsin 78-66 in other Big Ten games.

Elsewhere around the country, Xavier of Ohio clobbered Georgia Tech 92-67 to win the Queen City Invitational, the last of the holiday tournaments. Detroit whipped Bradley 106-81 and Houston downed Wichita 82-77 in Missouri Valley action. Auburn triumphed over Florida 83-77 in the Southeastern Conference opener for both teams. Missouri nipped Arkansas 51-50 and Pittsburgh beat Yale 95-74.

Lead All The Way

Robin Freeman, as usual, sparked the Ohio State attack, pouring in 28 points. The Buckeyes led all the way.

Indiana led by only seven points at the half but stepped up its pace at the start of the second and rocketed its lead to 55-42 in three minutes.

John Saxon pace dPurdue with 22 points.

Duke Schneider was the big man in the Queen City final, breaking open the game midway in the first half with two baskets for Xavier. He wound up with 19 points.

CONFERENCE PLAY RESUMES ACROSS STATE

HARRISBURG — Conference competition for most of Pennsylvania's 1,000 scholastic basketball teams begins this week after a round of exhibition play which saw only one defending district champion emerge without a defeat.

Chester, the Dist. 1 titlist and runner-up last year to state champion McKeesport, won seven straight games and capped the championship of the Cambria County War Memorial Tournament in Johnstown last week.

Although league action in some circuits began last month, the majority of teams swing into action tonight, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. A number of important contests highlight the first night.

Beat McKeesport

In the huge WPIAL, Farrell goes to New Castle for the big game in Dist. 7.

Farrell won its fourth consecutive Lions Club Holiday Tournament by beating McKeesport last week and at the same time won its 87th consecutive game on its home floor.

New Castle ran up 12 straight exhibition wins before losing out to Chester in the opening round of the Cambria County tournament.

McKeesport will get its first WPIAL Sect. 6 test against Duquesne while Beaver Falls runs into Aliquippa, another strong contender for district honors.

Reading Vs. Lebanon

Ellwood City, unbeaten in eight exhibition contests, gets a rest tonight but faces Farrell on Friday.

Two strong eastern leagues—Suburban Philadelphia and its defending champ Chester and the East Penn with Bethlehem and Hazleton unbeaten in exhibition play—begin circuit games Friday.

In the Central Penn. Reading opens its Dist. 3 title defense tonight against Lebanon. The Red Knights are the choice to repeat this year. Although sporting only a 2-2 exhibition record, Reading revealed a powerful offense in losing only to once-beaten Allentown and Bethlehem.

Unbeaten Bloomsburg will try to retain its Susquehanna League perch against Northumberland tonight. The Panthers, with wins over Danville and defending league champion Sunbury, also have whipped Coal Twp., defending Dist. 4 titlist.

Middletown Vs. Harrisburg Catholic

Unbeaten Westmont opens Tri-County League action in Dist. 6 against Wintber, Johnstown, the defending district champ competing as an independent this year.

Bullets Entertain Scranton Cagers Wednesday At 8; Evenly Matched In Height

Gettysburg College's cagers resume their schedule here Wednesday evening when a newcomer on the card, the University of Scranton, will be the opponent.

The game will start at 8 o'clock, no preliminary game being scheduled.

For one of the few times this season the Bullets will be able to match their opponents in height. Tallest of the regulars for the Tomcats is Tom Keefe, 6-3 center, who is a rugged rebound star.

Jerry Curtis, 6-2, and Tom McHugh, 5-9, are scheduled to start at the forward posts with Tom Oltorik, 5-11, and Tim McGovern, 6, at guards.

McHugh is the firebrand of the Tommies and teams with McGovern, a hard driver, in providing much of the offense.

Top reservists include Sal LaSpina, 6-2; Frank Germain, 6, and Tony Angelo, 5-9.

Lost To Strong Teams

Although Scranton has compiled only a 1-4 record, all losses were to strong opponents. The Tomcats lone win was over King's College. Setbacks were received at the hands of Wagner, Seton Hall, LeMoyne and Hofstra.

Coach Bob Davies' said today his Bullet squad is in the best shape it has been thus far this season. The Bullets (3-5) began drills December 26 after an abbreviated holiday layoff.

Starters against Scranton will include Joe Bierly and Bobby Walsack, forwards; Captain Dick Hockenbury, center; Al Teti and Frank Capitani or Barclay Sell, guards.

Frosh Open Saturday

Johnny Yovicin's tall freshman squad opens its schedule Saturday night at Anville where the yearlings meet the Lebanon Valley frosh in a preliminary to the varsity game.

The initial home game for the freshmen will be Saturday, January 14, when they meet the Lehigh frosh in another preliminary to a varsity contest.

JUNIATA PLAYS TO 6 TO 6 TIE TO BREAK SKEIN

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Once again the Tangerine Bowl was the graveyard of one of college football's longest winning streaks when Juniata's string of 23 straight ended in a 6-6 tie with Missouri Valley last night.

Two years ago it happened to East Texas State, winner of 30 straight, until held to a 7-7 tie by Arkansas State.

Juniata's string of 23 rode the passing arm of Pat Tarquinio and the catching hands of Barry Drexler and it was still riding them when it went down.

The Tarquinio-Drexler combination produced the Juniata touchdown on a 30-yard play in the first quarter. The pair also covered 27 yards in earlier stages of the 67-yard drive and went on to a total gain of 164 yards even after Missouri Valley started covering Drexler with two and three men.

Drexler's ability to snag passes in the face of this blanket defense won him the votes of sports writers as the most valuable player in the game.

A Juniata fumble led to Missouri Valley's touchdown early in the first quarter. The Vikings got the ball 16 yards from the goal and on the second play Bobbie Joe Scates tossed 11 yards to Ken Gibler for the score.

Five minutes later Juniata scored and it looked like a free scoring game with little importance likely to be attached to the missed kicks for conversion by Valley's Lavon Norvell and Juniata's Keith Birmingham.

Juniata coach Bob Hicks used only four substitutes, seven players going the whole 60 minutes. The Vikings substituted freely but Juniata was stronger in the end and twice in the final minutes got within one yard of a touchdown only to be thwarted by Missouri Valley's bigger line.

NEW YORK MAY LOSE TV BOUTS

NEW YORK (AP)—New York, once the boxing center of the world, may lose its only regular weekly fight club to another state as the result of the "war" between the State Athletic Commission and the boxing guild of New York.

Promoter Tex Sullivan of the London Sporting Club, which beams its Monday night television fights out of St. Nicholas Arena to 26 cities, planned to confer with Du Mont TV network officials today to discuss a possible shift to Stamford, Conn., or some other nearby site.

"I can't line up any fights for the St. Nick's for after Jan. 16," said Sullivan, "and because of the necessity of lining up programs three to four weeks in advance for television programming we may have to move out of the state."

"I'm set for the Jan. 9 and Jan. 16 shows but when I discuss fights for after the 16th with managers I'm told by some of their fighters 'aren't ready' or 'my guy's still bothered by cuts' or something like that," said Sullivan.

January 16 is the deadline set by commission chairman Julius Helfand for members of the guild to sever their connections with the guild or face loss of their licenses in the state. Helfand set the date on December 12 when he ruled the managers guild was "detrimental to the best interests of boxing" for "monopolistic," "shocking," and "devious" practices.

Oldster Rates Eddie Plank Greatest Of Left-Handers; Pollock, Columnist, Agrees

An old-time baseball fan, identified as "D.W.C.," is among those who rates the late Eddie Plank of Gettysburg as the greatest left-handed of major league baseball.

Ed Pollock, columnist of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin who has spoken here at several college banquets and has numerous friends here, used a communication from D.W.C. for his column, "Palying the Game," on December 23.

The article follows:

In a recent column, it was mentioned that Cy Young was one of six pitchers chosen as the all-time best by a committee of baseball writers, who also named Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Carl Hubbell.

This drew a complaint from D.W.C. an oldtimer who had no objections to righthanders Mathewson, Johnson, Alexander and Young, but drew a bead on lefties Grove and Hubbell and fired this through the mail:

"How can anyone place Grove, Hubbell or any southpaw ahead of Plank, who won more games than any one other lefthander in the history of baseball?"

"Plank won at least 324 games and some record books credit him 325. Grove won 300 and Hubbell 253."

One Losing Season

"Plank was so good that he went right from college to the big leagues, never pitched an inning in the minors and never had a losing season until his last year when he won five and lost six."

"I saw him pitch often and I was there when he worked his last major league game. He lost in 11 innings to Johnson and the Washington club by 1-0. He was then within a few weeks of his 42nd birthday. That was in 1917 when Johnson was not yet 30 years old."

"A workhorse in his prime, he was a consistent and enduring winner throughout his career. No doubt

Assistant Sooner Coach Gets New Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pete Elliott, assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma, is accepting an offer to head the University of Nebraska football coaching staff, it was announced today by Bill Orwig, Cornhusker athletic director.

Elliott received the Nebraska bid Dec. 4 from Orwig. But asked to delay his decision until after Oklahoma's appearance in the Orange Bowl game yesterday.

Orwig said he and Elliott will meet the University of Nebraska board of regents in Lincoln Saturday, to formalize terms of Elliott's selection as successor to coach Bill Glassford, who resigned.

Orwig said he will ask the regents to approve a salary of $12,000 annually for Elliott on a three-year term basis.

Won Over 300

As late as 1915, when he was close to 40, he answered the call 42 times, threw in 269 innings and won 21 games.

Time has dimmed his record. Young's has remained brighter because he was the only pitcher to win as many as 500 games. Plank should be remembered as the only left-hander who won MORE than 300.

Oklahoma, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Mississippi Win In Grid Bowl Battles

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Master of all it surveyed, Oklahoma today stood as the Goliath of college football for 1955.

Bud Wilkinson's rib-cracking Sooners, 20-6 victors over Maryland in the Orange Bowl yesterday, won't hear the taunt of "weak schedule" for a long time to come. As a member of the relatively weak Big Seven, Oklahoma plays a full conference schedule. As a result, the team sometimes does emerge as an unknown quantity.

The manner in which the Sooners handled Maryland, tightest major defensive outfit in the nation, before a crowd of 76,561 in Miami simply emphasized that they rated their No. 1 ranking.

Two years ago, Maryland had been voted the mythical national title, only to fall before Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Old Miss Triumph
Two of the three other major bowls followed expectations. Michigan State eked out a final-sevens victory over UCLA before 100,809 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., 17-14, and Georgia Tech turned back Pitt 7-0 before 80,173 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Not so expected was Mississippi's 14-13 decision over Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, with a gathering of 75,504 looking on.

In the second-line games, Missouri Valley and Juniata, Pa., fought to a 6-6 tie in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.; Wyoming whipped Texas Tech 21-14 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.; and Prairie View State humbled Flsk 59-0 in the Prairie View Bowl at Houston, Tex.

Second Stringers Score
Two of Oklahoma's three touchdowns were scored by second stringers—and the Sooners had to come from behind like champions to gain their triumph. Trailing 6-0 in the third period as a result of Ed Vereb's 15-yard jaunt in the second quarter, the Sooners tore Maryland apart with two scores in the third quarter and one in the fourth.

Oklahoma's skinny All American halfback Tommy McDonald notched the first Sooner touchdown on a four-yard dash. Billy Pricer converted and all that was needed. But Jay O'Neal went over from the 1 and Carl Dodd intercepted one of Lynn Beightol's passes and ran 82 yards for the final score.

Not Big But Fast
"The teams were about even," acknowledged Wilkinson later. "We got the breaks and they didn't. We are not big and what we do is fast. The tension was off when we scored the first time we got the ball in the second half."

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum was lavish in his praise of the Sooners. "Oklahoma is the best college football team in the country," he said. "They were in better physical shape. They handled themselves better. They outlasted us. They had too much speed."

But it remained for the Terps All America center Bob Pellegrini to explain the whole thing. "They came out of their huddle so fast, we couldn't adjust our defenses to meet them," he said.

Big 10 Hold Big Margin
The accurate toe of Dave Kaiser enabled Michigan State to pull the victory out over UCLA and maintain the Big Ten's whammy over the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl. The series count now stands 9-1.

With a 14-14 tie seven seconds before the end, Kaiser calmly came off the bench to kick a field goal from 31 yards out. Only a few minutes earlier, UCLA had fought back to a tie when Doug Peters, climaxing the passing drive of Ronnie Knox, went over from the 1.

The Spartans broke a 7-7 deadlock early in the fourth quarter on a 67-yard pass play from Clarence Peaks to John Big Thunder Lewis.

Said Young Kaiser later: "I didn't have time to think of feeling anything a tall. But I knew when my foot hit the ball that it was going to be good."

Score On Break
The only score in the Sugar Bowl came when Georgia Tech took advantage of a break. In the first quarter, Wade Mitchell passed from the 32 to Don Ellis, who was on the 2. Pitt defender Bobby Grier tried to block the pass and in the process pushed Ellis. He was charged with interference. The ball was given to the Engineers on the 2. Two plays later Mitchell sneaked over from the 1, then kicked the extra point.

Grier later denied pushing Ellis and said the penalty should have been called the other way. "He pushed me from behind," Grier said, "That's why I fell forward."

Call It Either Way
Pitt Coach Johnny Michelson said from where he sat the play could have been called either way. Tech

Coach Bobby Dodd, who now has won seven bowl games without a defeat, said he couldn't see the play, added: "Ellis told me Grier shoved him and I guess that was the way it was."

Jim Swink, Texas Christian's All America back, played one of his finest games, scoring both his team's touchdowns, but he couldn't fight Eagle Day and Paige Cothren single-handedly.

Swink, who tallied on runs of 1 and 39 yards, actually kept the Horned Frogs ahead until the last four minutes when Billy Lott hit a right end for five yards and the tying score after Day had set it up with a 25-yard gallop. Cothren kicked the extra point, the margin of victory. He also scored the first Ole Miss touchdown in the second period on a 3-yard plunge and kicked the extra point on that one too.

GRIER IS HAPPY OVER BOWL PLAY

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"I would be happy to have any son of mine go through the same experience," said fullback Bobby Grier as he sat in the Pittsburgh dressing room, the first Negro to play in a Sugar Bowl football game.

"The publicity didn't bother me," he said. "I have no regrets." Grier, leading ground gainer as Pitt lost to Georgia Tech 7-0, described the crowd as "real nice." He said Tech players helped him off the field when he injured his knee in the fourth quarter.

Received Early Publicity
Grier moved into the public glare last month when Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia opposed Tech's playing in the Sugar Bowl. Griffin objected to Grier and the fact Pitt stands would be unsegregated.

Tech students became enraged at the governor's proposal, demonstrated and burned Griffin in effigy. The Georgia Board of Regents refused to stop Tech from playing.

Grier attended the private party for coaches and players at the traditionally segregated St. Charles Hotel but missed the ball and buffet supper and dance that followed. After the private dinner, he left with a Pittsburgh coach for a party at Dillard University, Negro college. Most other white Pitt and Tech players remained for the hotel dance.

FIGHTING ILLINI TOP MICHIGAN STATE, 73-65

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

They don't call Illinois the "fighting Illini" for nothing.

The courageous gang from Champaign got Michigan State dizzy with a sensational second-half rally last night that brought it a 73-65 Big Ten basketball victory as the conference competition got under way.

Trailing by 18 points in the first half, Illinois came with a rush to deadlock the Spartans 51-51 in the second half. Then, after, falling a point behind, the Illini moved in front to stay when Bill Ridley scored four straight points.

Scores Impressively
Ohio State, which along with Illinois, is given the best chance of relieving Iowa of the league title, also scored impressively, 79-66 over Michigan.

Indiana trounced Northwestern 94-81 and Purdue defeated Wisconsin 78-66 in other Big Ten games.

Elsewhere around the country, Xavier of Ohio clobbered Georgia Tech 92-67 to win the Queen City Invitational, the last of the holiday tournaments. Detroit whipped Bradley 106-91 and Houston dominated Wichita 82-77 in Missouri Valley action. Auburn triumphed over Florida 80-77 in the Southeastern Conference opener for both teams. Missouri nipped Arkansas 51-50 and Pittsburgh beat Yale 95-74.

Lead All The Way
Robin Freeman, as usual, sparked the Ohio State attack, pouring in 28 points. The Buckeyes led all the way.

Indiana led by only seven points at the half but stepped up its pace at the start of the second and rocketed its lead to 55-47 in three minutes.

John Sexson pace dPurdue with 22 points.

Conference Play Resumes Across State

HARRISBURG (AP) — Conference competition for most of Pennsylvania's 1,000 scholastic basketball teams begins this week after a round of exhibition play which saw only one defending district champion emerge without a defeat.

Chester, the Dist. 1 titlist and runnerup last year to state champion McKeesport, won seven straight games and copped the championship of the Cambria County War Memorial Tournament in Johnstown last week.

Although league action in some circuits began last month, the majority of teams swing into action tonight, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. A number of important contests highlight the first night.

Beat McKeesport
In the huge WPAL, Farrell goes to New Castle for the big game in Dist. 7.

Farrell won its fourth consecutive Lions Club Holiday Tournament by beating McKeesport last week and at the same time won its 87th consecutive game on its home floor.

New Castle ran up 12 straight exhibition wins before losing out to Chester in the opening round of the Cambria County tournament.

McKeesport will get its first WPAL Sect. 6 test against Duquesne while Beaver Falls runs into Aliquippa, another strong contender for district honors.

Reading Vs. Lebanon
Ellwood City, unbeaten in eight exhibition contests, gets a rest tonight but faces Farrell on Friday.

Two strong eastern leagues—SUBurban Philadelphia and its defending champ Chester and the East Penn with Bethlehem and Hazleton unbeaten in exhibition play—begin circuit games Friday.

Promoter Tex Sullivan of the London Sporting Club, which beams its Monday night television fights out of St. Nicholas Arena to 26 cities, planned to confer with Du Mont TV network officials today to discuss a possible shift to Stamford, Conn., or some other nearby site.

"I can't line up any fights for the St. Nicks for after Jan. 16," said Sullivan, "and because of the necessity of lining up programs three to four weeks in advance for television programming we may have to move out of the state."

"I'm set for the Jan. 9 and Jan. 16 shows but when I discuss fights for after the 16th with managers I'm told by some of their fighters 'aren't ready' or 'my guy's still bothered by cuts' or something like that," said Sullivan.

January 16 is the deadline set by commission chairman Julius Helfand for members of the guild to sever their connections with the guild or face loss of their licenses in the state. Helfand set the date on December 12 when he ruled the managers guild was "detrimental to the best interests of boxing" for "monopolistic," "shocking," and "devious" practices.

An old-time baseball fan, identified as "D.W.C.," is among those who rates the late Eddie Plank of Gettysburg as the greatest left-handed of major league baseball.

Ed Pollock, columnist of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin who has spoken here at several college banquets and has numerous friends here, used a communication from D.W.C. for his column, "Palying the Game," on December 23.

The article follows:

In a recent column, it was mentioned that Cy Young was one of six pitchers chosen as the all-time best by a committee of baseball writers, who also named Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Carl Hubbell.

This drew a complaint from D.W.C. an oldtimer who had no objections to righthanders Mathewson, Johnson, Alexander and Young, but drew a bead on lefties Grove and Hubbell and fired this through the mail:

"How can anyone place Grove, Hubbell or any southpaw ahead of Plank, who won more games than any one other left-hander in the history of baseball?"

"Plank won at least 324 games and some record books credit him 325. Grove won 300 and Hubbell 253."

One Losing Season
"Plank was so good that he went right from college to the big leagues, never pitched an inning in the minors and never had a losing season until his last year when he won five and lost six."

"I saw him pitch often and I was there when he worked his last major league game. He lost in 11 innings to Johnson and the Washington club by 1-0. He was then within a few weeks of his 42nd birthday. That was in 1917 when Johnson was not yet 30 years old."

"A workhorse in his prime, he was a consistent and enduring winner throughout his career. No doubt."

Assistant Sooner Coach Gets New Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pete Elliott, assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma, is accepting an offer to head the University of Nebraska football coaching staff, it was announced today by Bill Orwig, Cornhusker athletic director.

Elliott received the Nebraska bid Dec. 4 from Orwig, but asked to delay his decision until after Oklahoma's appearance in the Orange Bowl game yesterday.

Orwig said he and Elliott will meet the University of Nebraska board of regents in Lincoln Saturday, to formalize terms of Elliott's selection as successor to coach Bill Glassford, who resigned.

Orwig said he will ask the regents to approve a salary of $12,000 annually for Elliott on a three-year term basis.

Won Over 300
As late as 1915, when he was close to 40, he answered the call 42 times, threw in 269 innings and won 21 games.

Time has dimmed his record. Young's has remained brighter because he was the only pitcher to win as many as 500 games. Plank should be remembered as the only left-hander who won MORE than 300.

about it, he was the best of all left-handers."

This column has long been convinced that Plank belongs at the top of any list of left-handers, but it isn't difficult to choose a committee of baseball writers who wouldn't give him a vote in naming the first six all-star moundsmen.

It is probable that a majority of today's baseball writers never saw Plank and can't conceive of any other left-hander being as good as Grove or Hubbell as his best.

It is also probable that the majority never saw either Young or Matty in action, but their super-records are convincing evidence.

Many know first hand about Alex and Johnson, having seen them in the 1920s when they were in the twilight of their careers, but still outstanding.

Plank's record would be more impressive if the statistics included his earned-run average for each of his 17 seasons in the big leagues.

ERA Impressive
The ERA didn't begin to show in the record books until a little more than 40 years ago at a time when Plank was well beyond the age pitchers are supposed to be at their best.

From 1913 through 1917—Plank's last five seasons—his ERA was never higher than 2.87 and in one season it was down to 1.79.

Gettysburg Eddie appeared in seven World Series games, pitching 55 innings and allowing only 11 runs. How many were unearned isn't recorded, but his average of runs-allowed per nine World Series innings was only 1.80.

Statistics Prove Point
In ten of the 14 seasons in which he worked for Connie Mack, Plank pitched in at least 250 innings, and in four of these years his total was more than 300.

In each of his eight seasons, he won 20 or more games. In one stretch of six consecutive years—1902 through 1907—he scored an aggregate of 136 victories, an average of about 22.5 per season.

His top victory years were 1904 and 1912. In each, he won 26 games. In 1906 when he appeared in only 26 games and 211 innings—he obviously was sidelined by injury or illness that year—his log was 19-4 for .826, the highest average of the season.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Vital Registrars Named: Dr. S. G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, last week announced his appointment of registrars of vital statistics for Adams county as follows: C. S. Rice, Ardensterville; D. P. Delap, Bendersville; Charles Hafer, Abbottstown; H. W. King, East Berlin; Jas. E. Glenn, M.D., Fairfield; Henry Stewart, M.D., Gettysburg; R. A. Hartman, Littlestown; George L. Rice, M.D., Moshersville; William R. Snyder, New Oxford; C. L. Myers, M.D., York Springs.

Wedding Bells: Wineman-Mickley — Last evening at 8 o'clock a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Mickley, Carlisle street, when their second daughter, Miss Daisy Myrtle, became the bride of Jacob B. Wineman.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home under a bell of Southern moss. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, cut flowers, etc.

The wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of a wedding march rendered by Miss Eleanor Wolf, of Glen Rock. They were met by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. A. Glutz, D.D., who very impressively performed the ceremony.

Miss L. Virginia Mickley, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Frank Hoppel, of Blue Ridge Summit, was best man. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk and carried carnations. The bridesmaid wore Persian lawn and also carried carnations.

After the ceremony refreshments were served. There were about 50 guests present. The bride was remembered by many beautiful and useful presents.

Both the bride and groom are popular and have many friends. They will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Mickley for a time.

Glass-Prosper: Quite a surprise was created in this place last week when the news reached here that Miss Emma Prosser, daughter of W. H. Prosser, proprietor of the Central Hotel, was married in Hagersstown to John B. Glass, who for some time has been bartender at the above hotel. The couple returned to Gettysburg Thursday evening and later went to Emmitsburg, where the groom resides.

Happy Family Reunion: On last Tuesday, Dec. 26th, Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Martin had the extreme happiness of having about them for the first time in many years, nearly all their sons and daughters, daughters-in-law and grandchildren. These, including their dearly beloved pastor, Rev. T. J. Crotty, to the number of seventeen at 3 p.m., sat down to a sumptuous repast. Good cheer reigned throughout and continued not only till late at night but every day to the end of the week, so that by frequent story telling and recalling of childhood incidents and experiences, interspersed with vocal and instrumental musical selections, recitations, toasts and games, the hearts of the old folks were rejuvenated like those of the youthful ones about them whilst from time to time their exuberant feelings irresistibly displayed themselves in tears of joy and delight.

Besides the above mentioned persons there were present: Mrs. Laura Roddy and two sons, Joe and Martin, of Philadelphia; Vincent W. and wife, Harrisburg; Mrs. Emily Ramey and daughters, Mary, Genevieve, Zita and Grace, Gettysburg; Rev. Father Martin, Elizabethtown; A. S. Martin, and wife, Burlington, Iowa, and J. Leo Martin, Providence, R. I.

Roth: Elizabeth V., 54-year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. H. Milton Roth died Friday evening about 5 o'clock, at their home on North Washington street.

The little one, which was the youngest of four children, had been suffering with whooping cough and contracted pneumonia, from which she died.

WHY?
The world's greatest scourge has always been war. Its cost in tears, destruction and human suffering is beyond all accounting. The entire wealth of the world has been dissipated in its pursuit. But nothing has been learned. When will it end? Why will little groups in nations persist in stirring it up?

Nearly two hundred years ago, the great Dr. Johnson wrote a pamphlet in which he said that war was "a calamity so dreadful that it is astonishing how civilized, nay, Christian nations can deliberately continue to renew it." Yet, after our so-called civilization had seemed to have reached its zenith at the inception of the twentieth century, war broke out anew and has given to this so-called civilization of ours a challenge that must give the very angels in Heaven cause for the deepest pity toward all human kind.

Behind the inception of all wars is greed, but the aftermath is death and desolation. Those who initiate wars are always in the minority. Those who pay for them are in the majority. Why must war go on when its final picture may be the final death of all that mankind has held dear and of worth?

Only about one and a half percent of the American national income is spent for education among the young. Figure up the cost of American battleships, to mention the cost of other means of destruction, such as the atomic bomb outlay of some billions. Even one modern battleship costs in excess of $50,000,000. On the United States coins are placed the motto "In God We Trust." But this is not engraved upon any of our battleships or our bombs! Why?

We are never going to have peace and good will in this world so long as the majority of so-called "conferences" are turned into real estate transactions — concerning property that belongs to the people — and not to those who are selected to trade this property off for selfish ends.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Doorways" Protected, 1956, By The George Mathew Adams Service

THE MIGRATING MILLIONAIRES
Southward the rich depart,
Leaving the snow behind,
Quitting the busy mart,
Dodging the caustic grind;
Cutting away from cares,
Taking their clubs along;
Migrating millionaires,
Hear now my plaintive song.

I yearn for skies of blue,
I long for days of ease,
I long for sunshine, too,
I like the summer breeze.
I feel the wintry blast,
I'd like to dodge the snow,
But I am stuck here fast—
Only the rich birds go.

Only the plumaged-fine,
Only the feathered gay,
Nest in the southern pine
Where gentle breezes play.
I'd like to migrate where
Laughter and song are heard,
I'd like to fly down there,
But I'm no wealthy bird.

But it's the snow for me—
Snow, slush and ice;
Southward I cannot flee:
I lack the price.
If with you birds of pride
I should migrate,
Bumpers I'd have to ride

MID-WINTER UNION VESPERS ARE SCHEDULED

A schedule for mid-winter union vesper services was arranged at the bi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Ministerium Monday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The vespers will be held at 7:30 p.m. on the following dates: January 15 in Centenary Methodist Church, Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Church, will secure the guest speaker; January 22, in St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, and the Rev. Porter W. Sewell, pastor of Redeemer's Church, will secure the speaker; January 29, in St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Church, secures the speaker; February 5, St. Paul's Church, Rev. William A. Ellsworth Jr., pastor of St. James' Reformed Church, secures; February 12, Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. Joseph Wood, pastor of Centenary Church, secures; February 19, Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. William C. Kams, pastor of St. John's Church, secures.

The church in which the service will be held will provide the choir. The pastor of the host church will conduct the worship and the pastor who secures the speaker will introduce the guest minister.

WGCT Devotions
The meeting Monday opened with prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Ellsworth. Rev. Mr. Koons, president, presided.

Several members of the Ministerium will conduct the morning devotions on radio station, WGCT, at 8:45 a.m. on the following dates: January 30, Rev. Mr. Koons; February 1, Rev. Mr. Ellsworth; February 4, Rev. Mr. Sewell.

A committee consisting of the Rev. Mr. Kammerer and the Rev. Mr. Kams was appointed to make a study of the kind of literature which is currently available to the youth of the community.

The Ministerium will meet again on Monday, March 5.

EDEN DISCUSSES EASTERN CRISIS WITH CABINET

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (A)—Prime Minister Eden called his Cabinet today to discuss the growing crisis in the Middle East and to consider Laborite demands for parliamentary debate on the government's policy of selling arms to Arabs and Israelis.

Eden assembled his minister after meeting Labor party leader Hugh Gattiskell and turning down a Socialist request that he invite the Kremlin to help maintain peace in the explosive Middle East.

The Cabinet meeting preceded an emergency conference tomorrow between Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and British ambassadors to eight Middle East countries who were suddenly ordered back to London.

Israeli Warning
Accompanying the flurry of diplomatic activity was a warning by Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion that Israel must be ready for imminent war with her Arab neighbors. Ben-Gurion told his Parliament, however, that was not "unavoidable."

Britain's press kept up a barrage of criticism against the Eden government over revelations that old British tanks and other surplus World War II goods have trickled through Belgium to the Middle East.

The government issued a statement pledging anew to do all in its power to prevent a Middle East arms race.

Embargo Lifted
At the same time, it partially lifted its recent embargo on war surplus goods. It said such goods could be shipped abroad if governments of the countries concerned could guarantee the material would not be reconditioned and resold for military purposes.

In response to Gattiskell's request for a "new approach" to Russia on Middle East issues, Eden said he already had made futile overtures to the Russians, who are busy wooing the Arab world and channeling arms to Egypt.

The Soviet answer, he said, "was not in the Geneva spirit." He said he doubted a new approach could gain anything "unless there was a change in the Russian attitude."

Middle East Topic
He said he undoubtedly would discuss the Middle East situation when he meets President Eisenhower in Washington later this month.

This was believed one of the reasons for Lloyd's sudden decision to summon Britain's Middle East envoys for talks here. It was reported they will be consulted in preparation for the Eden-Eisenhower meeting.

Henry Byroade, U.S. ambassador to Egypt, was slated to leave for Washington today on what was believed a similar mission to Secretary of State Dulles.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An intensive law enforcement campaign and the sobering memory of last week's heavy death toll served to hold Pennsylvania's New Year's holiday traffic fatality list to 13. Seven persons died in other types of mishaps over the three-day weekend.

The highway toll contrasted sharply with the 25 deaths listed for the Christmas holiday weekend.

Police were out in force over the New Year's weekend. That was credited with helping bring about the comparatively light death toll. Repeated safety pleas by officials also apparently had some effect on Pennsylvania's motoring thousands.

Report Worst Crash
The worst crash reported in the state occurred near Portstown Saturday night. Two persons met death in that accident—Paul R. Crocetti, 27, Perkiomenville, Pa., and Luther Hunsinger, 25, Portstown. Police said they were unable to determine who was driving when the automobile swerved off Swamp pike seven miles north of Portstown.

Mrs. Therseda Presenza, 61, Philadelphia, died Monday of injuries sustained in an automobile crash Sunday night.

Donald J. Stetler, 24, of Danville, R. 4, was killed Monday when his motorcycle sideswiped a truck and hooked onto the larger vehicle's bumper. Stetler was thrown off his machine.

Faure And Mendes-France Lead In France's Voting

PARIS (A)—France today looked forward to more years of shaky coalition governments as the rival moderate factions of Premier Edgar Faure and ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France split the majority of returns from the National Assembly elections.

The Communists and Pierre Poujade's tax rebels piled up unexpected gains. The Reds actually were running slightly behind their 1951 popular vote, but the moderate split—breaking up anti-Red alliances successful in 1951—gave the Communists more seats.

With returns in for 500 of the 544 seats filled in European France, these were the major Assembly standings from the voting yesterday:

170 For Faure
Faure's right-center coalition—170 seats, less than expected due partly to inroads of the Poujadists.

Mendes-France's leftist "Republican Front"—140, including 81 for the Socialists.

Communists — 135, already 35 more than the 99 they held in the last Assembly.

Poujadists — 46, a lot more than the 4 to 8 observers had conceded them before the voting. They had jumped to prominence only last year with their leader's campaign against paying taxes.

An estimated 25 million voters turned out, a record for France.

Services Wednesday For Mrs. John Bair

Mrs. Edith N. Bair, 70, Littlestown R. 2, widow of John E. Bair, died at 7:50 p.m. Sunday at her home. She was a daughter of the late Martin M. and Mary Longenecker Frey.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. Vincent Hobaugh, Seven Valleys R. 1; Martha Bair, Hanover; Mrs. Theron Hess, Sheltown, Md.; and Daniel F. Bair, Littlestown R. 2; five grandchildren, and these brothers and sisters: Clarence C. Frey, York; Samuel A. Frey, Hanover R. 2; Allen L. Frey, Hanover R. 3, and Mrs. Arthur Loudon, Baltimore. She was a member of the Mennonite Church, Hanover.

New Oxford RE-NAME KLUNK PRESIDENT OF TOWN COUNCIL

The oaths of office were administered by Burgess Guy A. Staub to Councilmen J. R. Robinson, John L. Kratzert, A. W. Rohrbaugh and John P. Smith.

President Klunk, who had no opposition for re-election as council president, took the chair while council completed its elections. A. W. Rohrbaugh was named vice president. Lawrence C. Bevenour was re-elected borough manager and his salary was set at $3,600 on a roll call vote. John M. Acker was re-elected borough treasurer and C. P. Keefer was named secretary for another two-year term. The salaries of Archer and Keefer remained the same as for last year.

The water committee was instructed to proceed immediately to secure parts for the repair of valves at the waterplant and dates will be set for property holders to meet to sign releases on Hanover and Carlisle Sts. No complete financial report was available from the treasurer but he said the borough ended the year with a balance in its treasury.

Regular salaries and bills were ordered paid.

Names Clark To River Committee

PHILADELPHIA (A)— Mayor Richardson Dilworth has named former Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. as a member of the Delaware River Basin Survey Committee. It was one of Dilworth's first official acts after being sworn in yesterday.

Clark will succeed Dr. Gilbert F. White, former president of Haverford College, in the nonpaying post.

The commission is a six-member agency to set up and supervise a study leading to a plan for the comprehensive development of the Delaware River basin.

Its primary function deals with providing an equitable and adequate supply for the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

"Came to the Plantation of the subscriber, living in Tyrone township, Adams county, about the middle of November last, A RED COW, with a white face, marked with a slit in the right ear and a crop off the left; It has a small bell on. The owner is desired to come, prove property, pay charges, and take her away. Samuel Brown."

During the first week in January 1803 Alexander Dobbin who lived at the south end of Gettysburg offered about 60 acres of land for sale "about eighty rods from the Court House." John Gallows was selling a "two story Log House with a good Lot of GROUND (with a STABLE erected thereon) situated on Second Street, Gettysburg."

The Centinel's motto January 4, 1804, was "Tis ours with Truth's fair shield to ward the blow, And turn the weapon back upon the foe."

At the beginning of 1805 an advertisement was placed in the paper as follows, "Wanted — A person who can come well recommended to Teach an English School. Apply to Barnabas McSherry, or James McKinley, Liberty township."

"Is Love or Anger the strongest passion?" was the subject of discussion of the Gettysburg Debating and Sentimental Society at a meeting on December 30, 1813. It is said "that the arguments on both sides were lengthy and numerous — After an attentive hearing of which, the President decided that the argument in favour of Anger being a stronger passion than Love, was best sustained."

German Almanacs had just been received at the Centinel's office for the year 1814. James McCrea died at the age of 51 at his farm in Liberty township, "a man of agreeable manners, and much esteemed by his acquaintances, he has left a wife and a number of children to lament the removal of an attentive and provident husband and father."

Daniel Row was married to Miss Mary Lilly, both of this county, by the Rev. D. McCaughy.

Napoleon Bonaparte who was exiled to the island of St. Helena and tidbits of news of the French Revolution took up a lot of space in early 1816 in the Centinel. In Adams County property was being sold and cows still straying into neighboring pastures. John Walhey reported a stray red cow about 15 years old wandering in his plantation in Menallen township. . . . the newspaper office advertised for an apprentice to the printing business by Zebedee Beall for the return of his negro boy and negro woman and child who escaped him at Andrew Little's Tavern on the Turnpike Road leading from Gettysburg to Baltimore . . . the estate of William King of Straban township was being settled.

Temperance Convention

o'clock, P.M. — "Every member must appear in complete uniform, or he will not be admitted into the ranks. By Order, Jacob Zeigler, O.S."

The Adams County Temperance Convention was held early in January 1838. The Temperance Society met in Christ Church in the "Borough of Gettysburg, on Monday the 1st of January, 1838, and was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Watson. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The credentials of the delegates from the different societies were presented when the delegates took their seats." Representing Gettysburg were Geo. Smyser, J. F. Macfarlane, James Cooper, H. Van Orsdel, Edwin A. Atlee and R. W. Middleton.

Persons who pledged aid to Pennsylvania College were asked to pay up in January, 1840, to J. H. McClellan, Esq., at the Bank of Gettysburg, who was "duly authorized to receive the same."

"A very splendid assortment of Plain and Figured Satins and Silks, for Bonnets — fashionable colors, with trimmings to match," was advertised by R. G. McCreary.

On December 31 Mr. Jacob Pitzer was married to Miss Maria Bream, both of Tyrone Township.

Other Weddings
Vows were exchanged in Conewago Chapel December 31, 1850, between Mr. David Lawrence and Miss

Old Fashioned Greeting

Clara Jacobs with Father Danneker as the officiating clergyman. Miss Catherine Landis, of Franklin County, became the bride of Mr. J. Bomberger, editor of the Shippensburg News, December 31, of the same year. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. S. Foulk.

Miss Anna Maria Eckert became the bride of Mr. Jacob L. Martin, both of Tyrone Township. . . . Mr. John Bosserman, Butler Township, exchanged nuptial vows with Miss Magdalena Bear, of Franklin Township. . . . Mr. Clinton Harrison McKnight, of Franklin Township, became the husband of Miss Ann Elizabeth McElroy, of Fayetteville, Franklin County. . . . Josiah Hocker, of Cumberland County, united himself in marriage to Miss Amanda Catharine Hamilton, of Y. S., Adams County.

Quarters For Carriers
The little newsboy looked for substantial remuneration at the end of 1855. In the Adams Centinel appeared the following on December 31, 1855: "To-morrow morning, as has been the custom on New Year's Day, from time immemorial, the patrons of the Centinel will be waited upon with the News-boy's Address. He asks from those he calls upon, a very kind reception, and something in way of material aid and comfort, to cheer him on in his never ceasing efforts to please. He looks forward with delightful anticipation to a pocket full of Quarters tomorrow."

Flour Prices Vary
In January, 1855, Dr. J. H. Mardeson, of York Springs, was preparing to address the "Adams County Agricultural Society" on Tuesday of the January Court. . . . Mr. Daniel Bettler sold at public sale 16 acres of land immediately south of the Cemetery for $110 per acre to Capt. John Myers. . . . Mr. Daniel Plank sold his brick dwelling on Carlisle Street to Mr. William Douglass for $1,400. . . . The price of flour was questioned in January, 1855. Said an article in the Centinel: "The price of Flour at Baltimore, our market for breadstuffs, is from $8.37 to $8.50, and at Hanover but $7.87½; whilst here, we have to pay $9.50. There is certainly something wrong in this matter."

Railroad is Opened
New Year's Day, 1858, was "a splendid day for the season," according to the Centinel. It is said that "from the liveliness of our streets there must have been general enjoyment. The new Brass Band was out during the afternoon, and discoursed sweet music. This will be a considerable addition to the interest of our public assemblages. "The Blues were expected out on Friday, with the Band, to celebrate the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans — commonly called Jackson's Victory."

The newspaper office sought an apprentice to the printing business. . . . John B. McPherson, Esq., 69, cashier of the Bank of Gettysburg, died. . . . the board of directors of the Gettysburg Railroad Company fixed a date for the formal opening of the road for business from Oxford to Hanover. The public was invited to attend the ceremonies and to take a ride on the train. . . . J. M. Walter, Esq., was appointed Mercantile Appraiser of Adams County for the ensuing year.

Aid For Veterans
Local ladies' relief committees were busy packing boxes for soldiers' hospitals in Washington early in January, 1862. The Civil War was a year old.

The Ladies' Relief Committee of Arendtsville sent the following articles to the Sanitary Commission in Washington: 3 bed comforters, 2 quilts, 9 pillows, 1 blanket, 6 sheets.

20 pairs of drawers, 15 shirts, 18 under shirts, 26 pair stockings, 19 towels, 4 rolls linen bandages, 4 curled hair cushions, 2 pair slippers, 1 box lint, 1 pound of soap, 1 paper farina, 3½ bushels dried apples, 1½ bushels dried peaches, 7½ bushels cherries, 1½ bushels whortleberries, 1½ bushels elderberries, 31 quarts blackberries, 6 jars preserved fruits, 24 tumblers and cans jelly, 10 crocks and jars of peach, plum and pear butter and cherry, 1 jar tomato catsup.

The pupils of Department, No. 5, gave their teacher, Mr. R. A. Lytle, a "handsome copy of Barnes' Poetical Works as a testimonial of their respect and love."

"Downfall of Slavery"
"Abraham Lincoln (says the Press) has proclaimed the downfall of slavery in the United States" announced the Centinel in January 1863. Most of the paper was given over to accounts of the fierce battle raging throughout the states. However, the Ladies' Fair in Sheds &

Buehler's Hall closed with a profit of $560. . . . the gallant "Monitor" was lost off Cape Hatteras. . . . heavy losses were sustained during the Great Battle at Murfreesboro, Tenn. . . . Jacob Keller and Miss Elizabeth Lingenfelter, both of Littlestown, exchanged wedding vows.

Twenty years had rolled on. . . . the war was over leaving Gettysburg as quiet as before the days of the great Battle. . . . The week of prayer was being observed in January 1882 by union meetings in St. James Church. . . . The paper was now called Star and Sentinel.

Usher In New Year
"A merry New Year to you all" was wished to the townspeople by the Fairfield correspondent who wrote that "The year 1881 is now numbered with the things of the past, and 1882 comes in cold and blustery, which in fact is more seasonable weather. With the New Year we resolve to abandon old and evil habits, to form new and better ones; but also, with many of us how soon are they forgotten!"

Among New Year's callers at the Star and Sentinel office in January 1900 was John E. Hartman, of Cash-town, who showed the newspaper staff a "dollar of 1799 which came into his possession recently." The New Year was ushered in with the usual shooting, bell ringing and blowing of whistles. Harry J. Gintling, electrician at the power house, had the figures 1900 cleverly displayed in electric lights from the top of the flag pole. The light fall of snow gave the day a wintry aspect. Skating was much enjoyed by many of the young people on the Springs' dam and on Rock creek. . . . The town clock stopped because of cold weather."

Entertain 137 Employees
In Jan., 1916, the Reaser Company entertained 137 employees at a banquet in the lecture room of St. James church. The feast was prepared by the Ladies Mite Society. Throughout the evening the St. James Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of Calvin Gouker, "furnished very enjoyable music."

A turkey dinner was given for the boys at the Paradise Rectory. . . . Miss Lorene Weaver became the bride of Albert Storm at St. Mary's Church, McSherrystown.

A successful holiday dance was held at the end of the year, 1920, in Glatfelter hall. Music was furnished by a Harrisburg orchestra. Patrons

Test Fire Piece
Regular holiday hours were observed at the post office New Year's Day. . . . There was no paper issued that day. . . . fire chief A. B. Plank conducted a test of the Boyd fire apparatus New Year's afternoon. The members of the company were requested to meet at the engine house at 1:30. The engine was tested on some of the smaller plugs of the town, at which some persons seem "to doubt whether the engine will throw a stream."

"Ineligible Officials"
On January 3, 1930, it was announced in The Gettysburg Times that two jury commissioners were ineligible to serve, according to an act of 1867. The account said that "S. H. Crum and William P. Stover, Adams County's two jury commissioners, are ineligible to serve the four-year terms to which they were elected in November. They were scheduled to take office next Monday but indications are increasing that they will be refused the oath of office on the ground that they were unlawfully elected. An act of 1867, it was learned, provides that a jury commissioner shall be ineligible for re-election within six years after he has served one term."

January 1, 1942, was ushered in with the following weather forecast: "Light to moderate rain and slowly rising temperatures" . . . three Hawaiian Islands were shelled by the Japanese and Manila was about to fall. . . . the town prepared for a Week of Prayer Service. . . . snow fell early in the evening but it wasn't necessary to send out cinder crews. . . . Jacob Melchior Sheads, member of the Gettysburg High School faculty, received word to report for active army duty at Camp Wheeler, Ga. . . . A "Happy New Year" Here and There column was written in which the author asked the townspeople to work for a "nation united."

Predicts Good 1955
"We need boundless faith" said Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, former pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, on New Year's Day 1955. James Scott Cairns, vice president and treasurer of the Keystone Cabinet Company, said "Competition will be keen in 1955". . . . "Business next year is promising" declared S. Richard Lemberg, general manager

Young Mother Has Quadruplets

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Norman C. Hohenwarter, 25-year-old wife of a $65-a-week postal clerk, gave birth yesterday to quadruplet boys. They were reported in "fair" condition early today.

The four babies, born about four weeks prematurely, arrived at Lancaster General Hospital. They were named Norman Charles, Carl Conrad, John Philip and Mark Anthony. The births gave the father, 25, more than half the football team he says he planned to raise. "It looks like it's well on the way," he grinned.

The Hohenwarters, who had expected twins, have two other sons, Stephen, 6, and Donald, 3.

Dinah Almost Lost Her $1,000 Dress

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Dinah Shore almost lost her $1,000 gold plated dress during yesterday's Tournament of Roses parade.

As she was taking her place on a float, there was a heater to keep her feet warm before the parade began.

An astonished spectator noticed peculiar things begin to happen to the dress. Before the heater could be grabbed away, Dinah had lost nearly two inches of gold from the bottom of the full-length gown.

Dip the clusters quickly in heavy cream and shake them gently. Then dip them in granulated or powdered sugar, and let them rest on wire racks until they are dry.

of the Gettysburg Furniture Factories. . . . the "1955 outlook appears to be satisfactory" said Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank of Gettysburg. . . . The weather was mild, the temperature a mere 38 degrees. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rebert, Orrtanna R. 1, became the parents of the first baby born at the Warner Hospital that day. . . . John A. Hauser, president of the C. H. Musselman Company, announced his confidence in the "New Year."

PRESIDENT AND AIDE CONFER ON SLASH IN TAXES

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower and a top fiscal aide confer today on a new federal spending blueprint reportedly totaling about 63 billion dollars.

Their budget talk at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here most likely will touch on whether the administration may be able to call for a tax cut in the fiscal year starting July 1, on the eve of the presidential election campaigns. A final decision, however, may be delayed for several months.

Budget Director Rowland H. Hughes flew to Key West from Washington last night for a session with the President, recuperating here from his Sept. 24 heart attack. Hughes was accompanied by Eisenhower's economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hauge.

The budget conference came as the second session of the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress was about to convene in the capital.

Two Favor Slash
Both Hughes and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey have said they hope taxes can be reduced. But they have declared too that a decision must await determination whether the budget for the new fiscal year can be balanced.

Mixing business with relaxation yesterday, Eisenhower spent 2½ hours working on his budget message, which will go to Congress about the middle of this month. His State of the Union message—outlining his 1956 legislative program in general terms—will be read to the Senate and House Thursday by clerks.

After work yesterday Eisenhower practiced golf shots and during the afternoon listened to the Orange Bowl game at Miami, in which Oklahoma beat Maryland 20-6.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who came to Key West Saturday, planned to fly back to Washington today with her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

County Agents Report Busy Year For Extension Service; Give Farmers Advice, Tests

The year's activity in Adams County's tremendous farming industry is outlined in the annual report of Agricultural Extension work prepared by County Agent Frank S. Zettie, Associate County Agent Fred H. Attinger and Assistant County Agent J. David Naugle.

The report shows the extension service held 357 meetings during the year, with a total attendance of 10,784. More than 30,000 letters on various subjects were mailed to farmers and 2,499 publications on various farm subjects were distributed.

According to the report, farmers' 429 attended meetings on farm management, 523 attended on agricultural engineering, 429 attended agronomy sessions on such subjects as weed control, crop production, silage and soil conservation; 1115, meetings on dairy husbandry, 1,083, meetings on insect and disease control; 101, meetings on forestry and wildlife; 1,402 on horticulture, 131 on poultry; 960 on animal husbandry.

Give Soil Tests
Soil testing was a big part of extension work. 1,573 soil samples were tested for lime needs, 223 complete soil analysis were made. Much more interest in agricultural economics was noted in 1955 than had been apparent in prior years, according to the report. "Lower farm prices, higher production expenses, and the fact that the farmer is getting a smaller share of the consumer's dollar are being reflected in the attitudes and actions of Adams County farmers," the report states.

According to the report "more applied engineering is being used on the farms of the county each year with increased effectiveness. New and more elaborate and expensive machinery and equipment is being purchased by farm families. Remodeling of buildings and construction of new buildings are often required in this fast moving agricultural era of today.

Advise On Irrigation
The extreme drought experienced the last two seasons has made farmers irrigation conscious. Several meetings were held the last two years on farm pond construction for irrigation purposes and pasture irrigation was covered at our county-wide crops day."

"Much work is still being done on

Extension also assisted with the construction of many trench silos over the last year. "These silos have enabled many livestock owners to increase the size of their livestock enterprise and better utilize the roughage produced on their farm."

With interest increasing in grass and hay crops, several demonstrations were held in the county to show farmers the possibilities of grassland farming.

Garlic Demonstrations
Garlic in milk, a serious problem with county dairymen for many years, led to several demonstration meetings on garlic control last spring. "A number of dairymen sprayed their pastures with excellent results," the report states.

A study of 503 complete soil analyses made through the county show that "soil fertility is one of our major problems in Adams County. Sixty per cent of the samples were low in phosphorus, 60 per cent were low in organic matter. In other words, more than one half of the soils in this analysis were too low in plant nutrients for economic crop production. This summary emphasizes the necessity for a long term program on soil fertility.

"The livestock farmer experienced one of the poorest years financially since the war. Beef prices had declined, leaving a very tight margin. Many feeders had to pay more per pound for stocker cattle than they were able to sell them for. Swine prices are 30 to 40 per cent under last year with profits almost non-existent in this enterprise. Wool prices have remained constant but lamb prices have also declined. All the livestock farmer could expect this year was a market for his roughages and home grown grains." But "the livestock industry continues to be an important part of this county's agriculture. Increased interest was expressed through a larger enrollment in 4-H livestock projects."

Cattle in 15 townships were tested for brucellosis during the year. "Six townships remain to be signed up and tested, and plans are made to obtain enough signers to have those townships tested," the report continued.

Dairy Herd Improvement testing, but obtaining testers is still a problem. This program should be expanded since efficiency of production is becoming more important each year.

"Dairymen are beginning to realize the importance and possibilities of quality roughage. Dairy housing is still a critical problem on meeting was held on bulk milk tanks. . . With the existing market available to Adams County dairymen has an important future." Other facets of the extension service, as outlined in the report, follow:

Report Other Activities

"Horticulture — the fruit program is planned in cooperation with a county wide fruit growers association county-wide fruit growers association with 450 on its mailing list. . . Promotion, marketing and distribution remained a critical problem. The majority of the fruit produced is grown for processors. However our production capacity is becoming greater than our processing capacity. . . growers have not developed fresh marketing channels. . . a promotion program was developed in cooperation with the county fruit growers. . . this spring an Apple Blossom tour was held and people were invited back again this fall. . . ### Insect Control Important

"Insect and disease control—The control of insects and diseases plays an extremely important part in the production of agricultural crops in this county. New problems seem to develop each year necessitating changes in the recommended spray programs. This year 13 apple spray letters, nine peach spray letters and eight cherry spray letters were sent to more than 400 growers. The processors reported the nicest and crop produced in many years.

"Alfalfa weevil, a new problem as of 1954, caused considerable damage to alfalfa that year and also on fields not sprayed last year. However a large acreage was sprayed both for spittle bug and alfalfa weevil as a result of six meetings held throughout the county on the control of insects on forage crops. People generally are becoming more insect and disease conscious.

Soil testing was a big part of extension work. 1,573 soil samples were tested for lime needs, 223 complete soil analysis were made.

Much more interest in agricultural economics was noted in 1955 than had been apparent in prior years, according to the report. "Lower farm prices, higher production expenses, and the fact that the farmer is getting a smaller share of the consumer's dollar are being reflected in the attitudes and actions of Adams County farmers," the report states.

According to the report "more applied engineering is being used on the farms of the county each year with increased effectiveness. New and more elaborate and expensive machinery and equipment is being purchased by farm families. Remodeling of buildings and construction of new buildings are often required in this fast moving agricultural era of today.

Advise On Irrigation

The extreme drought experienced the last two seasons has made farmers irrigation conscious. Several meetings were held the last two years on farm pond construction for irrigation purposes and pasture irrigation was covered at our county-wide crops day."

Extension also assisted with the construction of many trench silos over the last year. "These silos have enabled many livestock owners to increase the size of their livestock enterprise and better utilize the roughage produced on their farm."

With interest increasing in grass and hay crops, several demonstrations of new grasses and legumes were held in the county to show farmers the possibilities of grassland farming.

Garlic Demonstrations

Garlic in milk, a serious problem with county dairymen for many years, led to several demonstration meetings on garlic control last spring. "A number of dairymen sprayed their pastures with excellent results," the report states.

A study of 503 complete soil analyses made through the county show that "soil fertility is one of our major problems in Adams County. Sixty per cent of the samples were low in phosphorus, 60 per cent were low in organic matter. In other words more than one half of the soils in this analysis were too low in plant nutrients for economic crop production. This summary emphasizes the necessity for a long term program on soil fertility."

"The livestock farmer experienced one of the poorest years financially since the war. Beef prices had declined, leaving a very tight margin. Many feeders had to pay more per pound for stocker cattle than they were able to sell them for. Swine prices are 30 to 40 per cent under last year with profits almost non-existent in this enterprise. Wool prices have remained constant but lamb prices have also declined. All the livestock farmer could expect this year was a market for his roughages and home grown grains." But "the livestock industry continues to be an important part of this county's agriculture. Increased interest was expressed through a larger enrollment in 4-H livestock projects."

Cattle in 15 townships were tested for brucellosis during the year. "Six townships remain to be signed up and tested, and plans are made to obtain enough signers to have those townships tested," the report continued.

"Much work is still being done on

Dairy Herd Improvement testing, but obtaining testers is still a problem. This program should be expanded since efficiency of production is becoming more important each year.

"Dairymen are beginning to realize the importance and potentialities of quality roughage. Dairy houses are still a critical problem on many dairy farms. A county wide meeting was held on bulk milk tanks. . . With the existing markets available to Adams County dairymen has an important future." Other facets of the extension service, as outlined in the report, follow:

Report Other Activities

"Horticulture — the fruit program is planned in cooperation with a county wide fruit growers association with 450 on its mailing list. . . Promotion, marketing and distribution remained a critical problem. The majority of the fruit produced is grown for processors. However our production capacity is becoming greater than our processing capacity. . . growers have not developed fresh marketing channels. . . a promotion program was developed in cooperation with the county fruit growers. . . this spring an Apple Blossom tour was held and people were invited back again this fall. . . This type of promotion did much to acquaint people with Adams County's fruit and fruit products.

Insect Control Important

"Insect and disease control—The control of insects and diseases plays an extremely important part in the production of agricultural crops in this county. New problems seem to develop each year necessitating changes in the recommended spray programs. This year 13 apple spray letters, nine peach spray letters and eight cherry spray letters were sent to more than 400 growers. The processors reported the nicest and greatest crop produced in many years.

"Alfalfa weevil, a new problem as of 1954, caused considerable damage to alfalfa that year and also on fields not sprayed last year. However a large acreage was sprayed both for spittle bug and alfalfa weevil as a result of six meetings held throughout the county on the control of insects on forage crops. subscriber, living on the premises. Conrad Grumbach, December 25, 1801.

Finds Red Cow

In the same year a red cow was lost according to a notice placed in the paper by Samuel Brown. "Came to the Plantation of the subscriber, living in Tyrone township, Adams county, about the middle of November last, A RED COW, with a white face, marked with a slit in the right ear and a crop off the left; it has a small bell on. The owner is desired to come, prove property, pay charges, and take her away. Samuel Brown."

During the first week in January 1803 Alexander Dobbin who lived at the south end of Gettysburg offered about 60 acres of land for sale "about eighty rods from the Court House." John Galoway was selling a "two story Log House with a good Lot of GROUND (with a STABLE erected thereon) situated on Second Street, Gettysburg."

The Centinel's motto January 4, 1904, was "Tis ours with Truth's fair shield to ward the blow, And turn the weapon back upon the foe."

At the beginning of 1805 an advertisement was placed in the paper as follows, "Wanted - A person who can come well recommended to Teach an English School. Apply to Barnabas McSherry, or James McKinley, Liberty township."

"Is Love or Anger the strongest passion?" was the subject of discussion of the Gettysburg Debating and Sentimental Society at a meeting on December 30, 1813. It is said "that the arguments on both sides were lengthy and numerous - After an attentive hearing of which, the President decided that the argument in favour of Anger being a stronger passion than Love, was best sustained."

German Almanacs had just been received at the Centinel's office for the year 1814. James McCreary died at the age of 51 at his farm in Liberty township, "a man of agreeable manners, and much esteemed by his acquaintances, he has left a wife and a number of children to lament the removal of an attentive and provident husband and father."

Daniel Row was married to Miss Mary Lilly, both of this county, by the Rev. D. McConaughy.

Napoleon Bonaparte who was exiled to the island of St. Helena and tidbits of news of the French Revolution took up a lot of space in early 1816 in the Centinel. In Adams County property was being sold and cows still straying into neighboring pastures. John Walhey reported a stray red cow about 15 years old wandering in his plantation in Menallen township. . . the newspaper office advertised for an apprentice to the printing business . . . fifty dollars reward was posted by Zebedee Beal for the return of his negro boy and negro woman and child who escaped him at Andrew Little's Tavern on the Turnpike Road leading from Gettysburg to Baltimore . . . the estate of William King of Straban township was being settled.

Temperance Convention

In January 1821 the Gettysburg Guards were ordered to parade in full uniform at the Court-house, on Saturday next, precisely at 1

o'clock, P.M. - "Every member must appear in complete uniform, or he will not be admitted into the ranks. By Order, Jacob Zeigler, OS."

The Adams County Temperance Convention was held early in January 1838. The Temperance Society met in Christ Church in the "Borough of Gettysburg, on Monday the 1st of January, 1838, and was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Watson. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The credentials of the delegates from the different societies were presented when the delegates took their seats." Representing Gettysburg were Geo. Smyser, J. F. Macfarlane, James Cooper, H. Van Orsdel, Edwin A. Atlee and K. W. Middleton.

Persons who pledged aid to Pennsylvania College were asked to pay up in January, 1840, to J. H. McClellan, Esq., at the Bank of Gettysburg, who was "duly authorized to receive the same."

"A very splendid assortment of Plain and Figured Satins and Silks, for Bonnets - fashionable colors, with trimmings to match," was advertised by R. G. McCreary.

On December 31 Mr. Jacob Pitzer was married to Miss Maria Bream, both of Tyrone Township.

Other Weddings

Old Fashioned Greeting

Clara Jacobs with Father Danneker as the officiating clergyman. Miss Catherine Landis of Franklin County, became the bride of Mr. J. Bomberger, editor of the Shippensburg News, December 31, of the same year. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. S. Fouk.

Miss Anna Maria Eckert became the bride of Mr. Jacob L. Martin, both of Tyrone Township . . . Mr. John Bosserman, Butler Township, exchanged nuptial vows with Miss Magdalena Bear, of Franklin Township . . . Mr. Clinton Harrison McKnight, of Franklin Township, became the husband of Miss Ann Elizabeth McElroy, of Fayetteville, Franklin County . . . Mr. Josiah Hocker, of Cumberland County, united himself in marriage to Miss Amanda Catharine Hamilton, of Y. S. Adams County.

Quarters For Carriers

The little newsboy looked for substantial remuneration at the end of 1855. In the Adams Sentinel appeared the following on December 31, 1855: "To-morrow morning, as has been the custom on New Year's Day, from time immemorial, the patrons of the Sentinel will be waited upon with the News-boys' Address. He asks from those he calls upon, a very kind reception, and something in way of material aid and comfort, to cheer him on in his never ceasing efforts to please. He looks forward with delightful anticipation to a pocket full of Quarters tomorrow."

Flour Prices Vary

In January, 1855, Dr. J. H. Marden, of York Springs, was preparing to address the "Adams County Agricultural Society" on Tuesday of the January Court . . . Mr. Daniel Beiler sold at public sale 16 acres of land immediately south of the Cemetery for $110 per acre to Capt. John Myers . . . Mr. Daniel Plank sold his brick dwelling on Carlisle Street to Mr. William Douglass for $1400. . . . The price of flour was questioned in January, 1855. Said an article in the Sentinel: "The price of Flour at Baltimore, our market for bread-stuffs, is from $8.37 to $8.50, and at Hanover but $7.87 1/2; whilst here, we have to pay $9.50. There is certainly something wrong in this matter."

Railroad Is Opened

New Year's Day, 1858, was "a splendid day for the season," according to the Sentinel. It is said that "from the liveliness of our streets there must have been general enjoyment. The new Brass Band was out during the afternoon, and discoursed sweet music. This will be a considerable addition to the interest of our public assemblages. "The Blues were expected out on Friday, with the Band, to celebrate the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans - commonly called Jackson's Victory."

The newspaper office sought an apprentice to the printing business . . . John B. McPherson, Esq., 69, cashier of the Bank of Gettysburg, died . . . the board of directors of the Gettysburg Railroad Company fixed a date for the formal opening of the road for business from Oxford to Hanover. The public was invited to attend the ceremonies and to take a ride on the train . . . J. M. Walter, Esq., was appointed Mercantile Appraiser of Adams County for the ensuing year.

Aid For Veterans

Local ladies' relief committees were busy packing boxes for soldiers' hospitals in Washington early in January, 1862. The Civil War was a year old.

The Ladies' Relief Committee of Arendtsville sent the following articles to the Sanitary Commission in Washington. 3 bed comforters, 2 quilts, 9 pillows, 1 blanket, 6 sheets, 20 pairs of drawers, 15 shirts, 18 under shirts, 26 pair stockings, 19 towels, 4 rolls linen bandages, 4 curled hair cushions, 2 pair slippers, 1 box lint, 1 pound of soap, 1 paper farina, 3 1/2 bushels dried apples, 1 1/2 bushels dried peaches, 7 1/2 bushels cherries, 1 1/2 bushels whortleberries, 1 1/2 bushels elderberries, 31 quarts blackberries, 6 jars preserved fruits, 24 tumbler and cans jelly, 10 crocks and jars of peach, plum and pear butter and cherry, 1 jar tomato catsup.

The pupils of Department, No. 5, gave their teacher, Mr. R. A. Lytle, a "handsome copy of Burns' Poetical Works as a testimonial of their respect and love."

"Downfall Of Slavery"

"Abraham Lincoln (says the Press) has proclaimed the downfall of slavery in the United States" announced the Sentinel in January 1863. Most of the paper was given over to accounts of the fierce battle raging throughout the states. However, the Ladies' Fair in Sheads &

Buehler's Hall closed with a profit of $560 . . . the gallant "Monitor" was lost off Cape Hatteras . . . heavy losses were sustained during the Great Battle at Murfreesboro, Tenn. . . . Jacob Keller and Miss Elizabeth Langenfelder, both of Littlestown, exchanged wedding vows.

Twenty years had rolled on . . . the war was over leaving Gettysburg as quiet as before the days of the great Battle . . . The week of prayer was being observed in January 1882 by union meetings in St. James Church . . . The paper was now called Star and Sentinel.

Usher In New Year

"A merry New Year to you all" was wished to the townspeople by the Fairfield correspondent who wrote that "The year 1881 is now numbered with the things of the past, and 1882 comes in cold and blustery, which in fact is more seasonable weather. With the New Year we resolve to abandon old and evil habits, to form new and better ones; but also, with many of us how soon are they forgotten!"

Among New Year's callers at the Star and Sentinel office in January 1900 was John E. Hartman, of Cash-town, who showed the newspaper staff a "dollar of 1799 which came into his possession recently." The New Year was "ushered in with the usual shodding, bell ringing and blowing of whistles. Harry J. Guntling, electrician at the power house, had the figures 1900 cleverly displayed in electric lights from the top of the flag pole. The light fall of snow gave the day a wintry aspect. Skating was much enjoyed by many of the young people on the Springs' dam and on Rock creek. . . . The town clock stopped because of cold weather."

Entertain 137 Employees

In Jan., 1916, the Reaser Company entertained 137 employees at a banquet in the lecture room of St. James church. The feast was prepared by the Ladies Mite Society. Throughout the evening the St. James Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of Calvin Gouker, "furnished very enjoyable music."

A turkey dinner was given for the boys at the Paradise Rectory. . . Miss Lorene Weaver became the bride of Albert Storm at St. Mary's Church, McSherrystown.

A successful holiday dance was held at the end of the year, 1920, in Glatfelter hall. Music was furnished by a Harrisburg orchestra. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. J. McCreary Dickson, Charles S. Duncan, Esq., Atty. and Mrs. John D. Keith and Mrs. W. A. Granville.

Test Fire Piece

Regular holiday hours were observed at the post office New Year's Day. . . There was no paper issued that day. . . fire chief A. B. Plank conducted a test of the Boyd fire apparatus New Year's afternoon. The members of the company were requested to meet at the engine house at 1:30. The engine was tested on some of the smaller plugs of the town, at which some persons seem "to doubt whether the engine will throw a stream."

"Ineligible Officials"

On January 3, 1930, it was announced in The Gettysburg Times that two jury commissioners were ineligible to serve, according to an act of 1867. The account said that "S. H. Crum and William P. Stover, Adams County's two jury commissioners, are ineligible to serve the four-year terms to which they were elected in November. They were scheduled to take office next Monday but indications are increasing that they will be refused the oath of office on the ground that they were unlawfully elected. An act of 1867, it was learned, provides that a jury commissioner shall be ineligible for re-election within six years after he has served one term."

January 1, 1942, was ushered in with the following weather forecast: "Light to moderate rain and slowly rising temperatures" . . . three Hawaiian Islands were shelled by the Japanese and Manila was about to fall . . . the town prepared for a Week of Prayer Service . . . snow fell early in the evening but it wasn't necessary to send out cinder crews . . . Jacob Melchior Sheds, member of the Gettysburg High School faculty, received word to report for active army duty at Camp Wheeler, Ga. . . A "Happy New Year" Here and There column was written in which the author asked the townspeople to work for a "nation united."

Predicts Good 1955

"We need boundless faith" said Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, former pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, on New Year's Day 1955. James Scott Cairns, vice president and treasurer of the Keystone Cabinet Company, said "Competition will be keen in 1955" . . . "Business next year is promising" declared S. Richard Lemberg, general manager

Young Mother Has Quadruplets

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Norman C. Hohenwarter, 25-year-old wife of a $65-a-week postal clerk, gave birth yesterday to quadruplet boys. They were reported in "fair" condition early today.

The four babies, born about four weeks prematurely, arrived at Lancaster General Hospital. They were named Norman Charles, Carl Conrad, John Philip and Mark Anthony. The births gave the father, 25, more than half the football team he says he planned to raise "It looks like it's well on the way," he grinned.

The Hohenwarters, who had expected twins, have two other sons, Stephen, 6, and Donald, 3.

Dinah Almost Lost Her $1,000 Dress

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Dinah Shore almost lost her $1,000 gold plated dress during yesterday's Tournament of Roses parade.

As she was taking her place on a float, there was a heater to keep her feet warm before the parade began.

An astonished spectator noticed peculiar things begin to happen to the dress. Before the heater could be grabbed away, Dinah had lost nearly two inches of gold from the bottom of the full-length gown.

PRESIDENT AND AIDE CONFER ON SLASH IN TAXES

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower and a top fiscal aide confer today on a new federal spending blueprint reportedly totaling about 63 billion dollars.

Their budget talk at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here most likely will touch on whether the administration may be able to call for a tax cut in the fiscal year starting July 1, on the eve of the presidential election campaign. A final decision, however, may be delayed for several months.

Budget Director Rowland H. Hughes flew to Key West from Washington last night for a session with the President, recuperating here from his Sept. 24 heart attack. Hughes was accompanied by Eisenhower's economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hauge.

The budget conference came as the second session of the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress was about to convene in the capital.

Two Favor Slash

Both Hughes and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey have said they hope taxes can be reduced. But they have declared too that a decision must await determination whether the budget for the new fiscal year can be balanced.

Mixing business with relaxation yesterday, Eisenhower spent 2 1/2 hours working on his budget message, which will go to Congress about the middle of this month. His State of the Union message—outlining his 1956 legislative program in general terms—will be read to the Senate and House Thursday by clerks.

After work yesterday Eisenhower practiced golf shots and during the afternoon listened to the Orange Bowl game at Miami, in which Oklahoma beat Maryland 20-6.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who came to Key West Saturday, planned to fly back to Washington today with her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Card of Thanks

MARTIN: I wish to express my sincere thanks to my friends and relatives for the many cards and flowers I received during my stay in the Harrisburg Hospital. I also wish to thank those who donated blood, it was very greatly appreciated.

JOHN ANDREW MARTIN

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear husband and father, who departed this life one year ago today.

"Dear Dad, there is a vacant chair which never can be filled. There is an aching heart that never can be stilled.

We shared our joys and sorrows, You left us all so soon, And now I feel so much alone.

The nights are long and weary And life for me is dreary, But God has given me grace and strength.

And comfort, too, That I, my tasks, can carry through

Off times I wonder to your grave And then I think, Oh, he's not there, But has gone to the home that our Dear Saviour had prepared.

Someday, dear Dad, there will be a reunion, what a wonderful time That will be!

When I again your smiling face can see, And Jesus will say: 'Come unto Me, there is rest for thee'

By his loving wife and children, MRS. FREDA M. PLANK

Viewers Pay Final Respects To Hague

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Scores of former followers will pay final respects to Frank Hague, onetime political overlord, as his body goes on public view today.

Messages of sympathy poured in from friends and even former political enemies of the colorful Democrat, who died in New York New Year's Day at the age of 81.

Hague, considered the last of the nation's old-time political bosses, had been ill for several months. His body was returned here from his Park Avenue apartment.

The mayor of Jersey City for eight successive terms, Hague's political influence was felt in the nation's capital. His body will lie in state today and tomorrow at a funeral home here.

Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Automobiles were overturned at each of the states. Deputies said the trouble started as they sought to break up the mass picketing at the gates. Officers said striking members of Local 746, International Union of Electrical Workers, threw stones and damaged squad cars. Windshields of a number of other cars also were reported broken.

"Out-of-Towners" Jailed Among those in the county jail are union members from Cincinnati, Mansfield and other Ohio cities, officers said. Police quoted some of those arrested as saying they came here for business meeting.

Jailers said "billy clubs" and stones were found on some of those arrested.

The man who died was identified as Troy Tadlock, 34, of nearby Grove City. He was picked up unconscious at Gate No. 1 of the plant. He was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital, and authorities said they had been informed the man may have died of a heart attack.

By 9 a.m., authorities said things had quieted down at the plant and that no more serious trouble was expected. An estimated 100 city police and sheriff's deputies were at the plant at the start of the demonstration.

Officials of striking Local 746 had given authorities advance notice of the mass meeting, called, they said, to protect the company's "back-to-work" movement which had been under way several weeks.

Charles Clark, president of the local, had said last night the union had voted the demonstration to protest the back-to-work movement. He said he had informed Sheriff Ralph J. Paul, and Police Chief George W. Scholer, and Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner.

Our notification of these authorities carries out the pledge we made to them in conferences two weeks ago, when we were hopeful that Westinghouse would bow to public sentiment, and end their concerted attempts to provoke a back-to-work movement," Clark said.

Some 1,000 to 1,200 pickets also appeared at the Westinghouse plant in Sharon, Pa., but there was no violence reported.

They laughed, hooted and sang. About the only big noise was that of an occasional firecracker going off on a hillside near the plant.

East Side ball park.

Remained Unidentified It was unidentified until yesterday when her sister read her description in a newspaper. Miller, after an evening of drinking and dancing with the victim, didn't know her name.

A great variety of make believe accidents are staged on British railways and the victims are treated by volunteer teams.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Card of Thanks
MARTIN: I wish to express my sincere thanks to my friends and relatives for the many cards and flowers I received during my stay in the Harrisburg Hospital. I also wish to thank those who donated blood, it was very greatly appreciated.
JOHN ANDREW MARTIN

In memory of our dear husband and father, who departed this life one year ago today.
"Dear Dad, there is a vacant chair which never can be filled. There is an aching heart that never can be stilled. We shared our joys and sorrows. We left you all so soon. And now I feel so much alone. The nights are long and weary. And life for me is dreary. But God has given me grace and strength, and comfort, too. That I, my tasks, can carry through. Off times I wander to your grave. And then I think, Oh, he's not there. But has gone to the home that our Dear Saviour had prepared. Someday, dear Dad, there will be a reunion, what a wonderful time that will be! When I again your smiling face can see. And Jesus will say: 'Come unto Me, there is rest for thee'." By his loving wife and children, MRS. FREDA M. PLANK

Viewers Pay Final Respects To Hague

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — Scores of former followers will pay final respects to Frank Hague, onetime political overlord, as his body goes on public view today.

Messages of sympathy poured in from friends and even former political enemies of the colorful Democrat, who died in New York New Year's Day at the age of 81.

Hague, considered the last of the nation's old-time political bosses, had been ill for several months. His body was returned here from his Park Avenue apartment.

The mayor of Jersey City for eight successive terms, Hague's political influence was felt in the nation's capital. His body will lie in state today and tomorrow at a funeral home here.

Funeral services will be held Thursday.

ISRAEL TELLS ARABS SHE WILL RESIST ATTACKS

JERUSALEM — Israel's two top leaders have placed the Arab states on notice that the Jewish nation will beat off any attacks from her neighbors.

But they told Parliament yesterday Israel does not want to start another Holy Land war. They cautioned against the belief that war is unavoidable.

The stern statements came from Premier David Ben-Gurion, advocate of Israel's "activist" policy, and Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett, who has urged a course of restraint.

Declaring that all the Middle East countries but Israel and Turkey are a "whirlpool of disturbances," Ben-Gurion urged Israelis to be ready for the danger of imminent war.

"We shall be grievously at fault," he said, if we do not

RUSSIA USING WRONG TACTICS AGAINST YANKS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians are doing the wrong things if they want the American government to reduce its spending, particularly military spending, in the belief that they're reported to be thinking that way but—
They won't agree on disarmament and they talk of developing an intercontinental guided missile. So the United States will step up defenses. The Russians promise economic aid to Asia. The United States will boost its foreign aid.
This isn't the first time the Russians got the opposite of what they may have hoped for. The classic example was in 1950 when Stalin let the North Koreans attack South Korea.
Early that year the Truman administration, bent on economy, wanted to cut military spending. The then secretary of defense, Louis Johnson, said he would ask Congress for only 13½ billion dollars.

Hit Prosperity Peak
The Korean War began, the United States jumped in, American military spending shot up, defense plants have done a land-office business, and American prosperity has reached a peak.
This is the total of American military spending since and including 1950: $224,197,000,000. The Eisenhower administration gradually has been cutting down on it.
The Defense Department estimates that in the present fiscal year, ending next June 30, it will spend about 34½ billion dollars. But now Secretary of Defense Wilson figures spending will hit 35½ billion next year, in part because of higher costs.
The United States can't afford to lag behind the Russians, who talk disarmament but are armed to the teeth. And probably this government heard the Soviets are working hard on guided missiles. Premier Bulganin said as much last week.
Hike Foreign Aid
After Bulganin and Communist

SCHOOL AID IS PUT OFF UNTIL AFTER JAN. 15

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Leader administration is putting off until at least Jan. 15—and possibly later—payment of 96 million dollars in overdue state aid to school districts.
An administration source, who asked not to be identified, described as "too optimistic" previous reports that checks would start rolling as soon as the governor signed the 561 million dollar school appropriation.
The governor, in signing the measure before Christmas, made it clear that the taxes to finance the huge grants were not yet in hand because of the year-old tax deadlock in the 1955 Legislature.
Debt Service Due
The source said the state has about 60 million dollars now in the treasury but is faced with putting out 29½ million dollars for debt service next month.
Most of the debt service is for interest due on bonds sold several years ago to finance a 440 million dollars bonus for Pennsylvania veterans of World War II.
The source said the Justice Department has ruled that it must take legislation to borrow money from highway funds. Previous reports were that the governor could borrow gasoline tax revenue without enacting a bill.
Action Takes Time
Since the Senate is in recess until Jan. 16 even though the House meets tomorrow, such legislation could not be passed prior to Jan. 18.
The spokesman also said it would take up to a month to set up the machinery for the sale of tax anticipation notes. Under a 1955 law, the state can still borrow between 26 and 28 million dollars.
"There's a possibility that we may have to borrow this money but the situation is not resolved," said the source.
Payment Awaits Money
John Hertz, chief of school administration, said requisitions for state aid to schools are already written on the basis of 42 millions owed to fourth class school districts since last Oct. 31 and 54 millions for first, second and third class districts owed since Nov. 30.
"We can't do anything until we get the word from the governor's office that the money is there," said Hertz. "When the word comes, we'll be ready to act within a matter of hours."

REPORT MINOR EARTHQUAKE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An earthquake, strong enough to do a little damage, shook the Los Angeles area yesterday about the time the Rose Bowl game, in nearby Pasadena, was nearing an end.

People in an area extending about 50 miles to the east and south reported feeling the tremor. Sheriff's officers in Riverside and Santa Ana said plaster was cracked in some houses. A plate glass window was broken in a Pasadena supermarket.

Rates Magnitude
Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, rated the magnitude at 4.5 on a scale which rates the strongest recorded at 8.6. He said the shock was centered about 40 miles away in an undetermined direction.

The San Bernardino sheriff's office said the jail on the top floor of the four-story county courthouse building "shook like the devil."

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PHILADELPHIA — William Simpson, 92, retired business manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin and associated with the Bulletin 42 years. Born in Liverpool, England. Died yesterday.
BUTLER, Pa. — T. W. Phillips Jr., 81, president of the T. W. Phillips Gas & Oil Co., a Republican representative in Congress for two terms, 1923-27, and long active in Republican politics. Died yesterday.

party chief Khrushchev made their trip to Asia with promises of economic help, Secretary of State Dulles said foreign aid spending by this country would go up from $4,200,000,000 this year to $4,400,000,000 next year.

This news broke at a time when many members of Congress wanted spending reduced. This is an election year and if they could economize they might be able to put through a tax cut. But they have read about the Russians' plans.
They come back to work today, no doubt, with some change of mind.

An adult with normal mentality may become insane, but he can never become feeble minded.
